DIANE
Kim 10A

It's me and I'm writing you to say
I'm glad I am
a friend to you and I hope to keep up friends
forever.

Diane,
Hi, how are you? I'm
I hate school and I want to die. Frosh. Year has been an experience and Soph. will be even more shitty. Besides all that I'm pretty dandy.
Well, gotta go and be a snob.
Luv, Pigi

Dear Chunkie-Chink,
Hi! That's all!
Just kidding! I just wanted to tell you what a sweetie you are. You are also an awesome friend and what I do with you? Thank for always listening out for always being there. Hey! Will we ever forget Mr. Donuts, the A.A., the FABULOUS spring (Mr. Donuts). Well, sweetie
"Oh, thank-you!" and a half to go! Hope we one year down, 3 and a half to go! Always!
make it! Luv ya Always!
P.S. Friends Forever

Luv,
Banama
Ma revoir,
ma chérie!
Good-luck!

Dear Diane,
We've certainly had
some great times together;
you're a wrap!! I hope we can be friends for a long time and we'll have
many many more fun memories!
Good luck this year and keep in touch, we never seem to talk anymore!
Love always,
Jim

Dear Diane,
Freshman year was great!! Sophomore year will be even better. I'm glad I met you and I'm even gladder that we became good friends. Hey, what the heck Great forever!!
Class of 1990
Love always,
Jessie
Forever

Dear Diane,
Hi babe how ya been!
Ha! Ha! This year is going to be awesome. (said familiar.) Hope to stay friends this year!!
Luv
Lisa

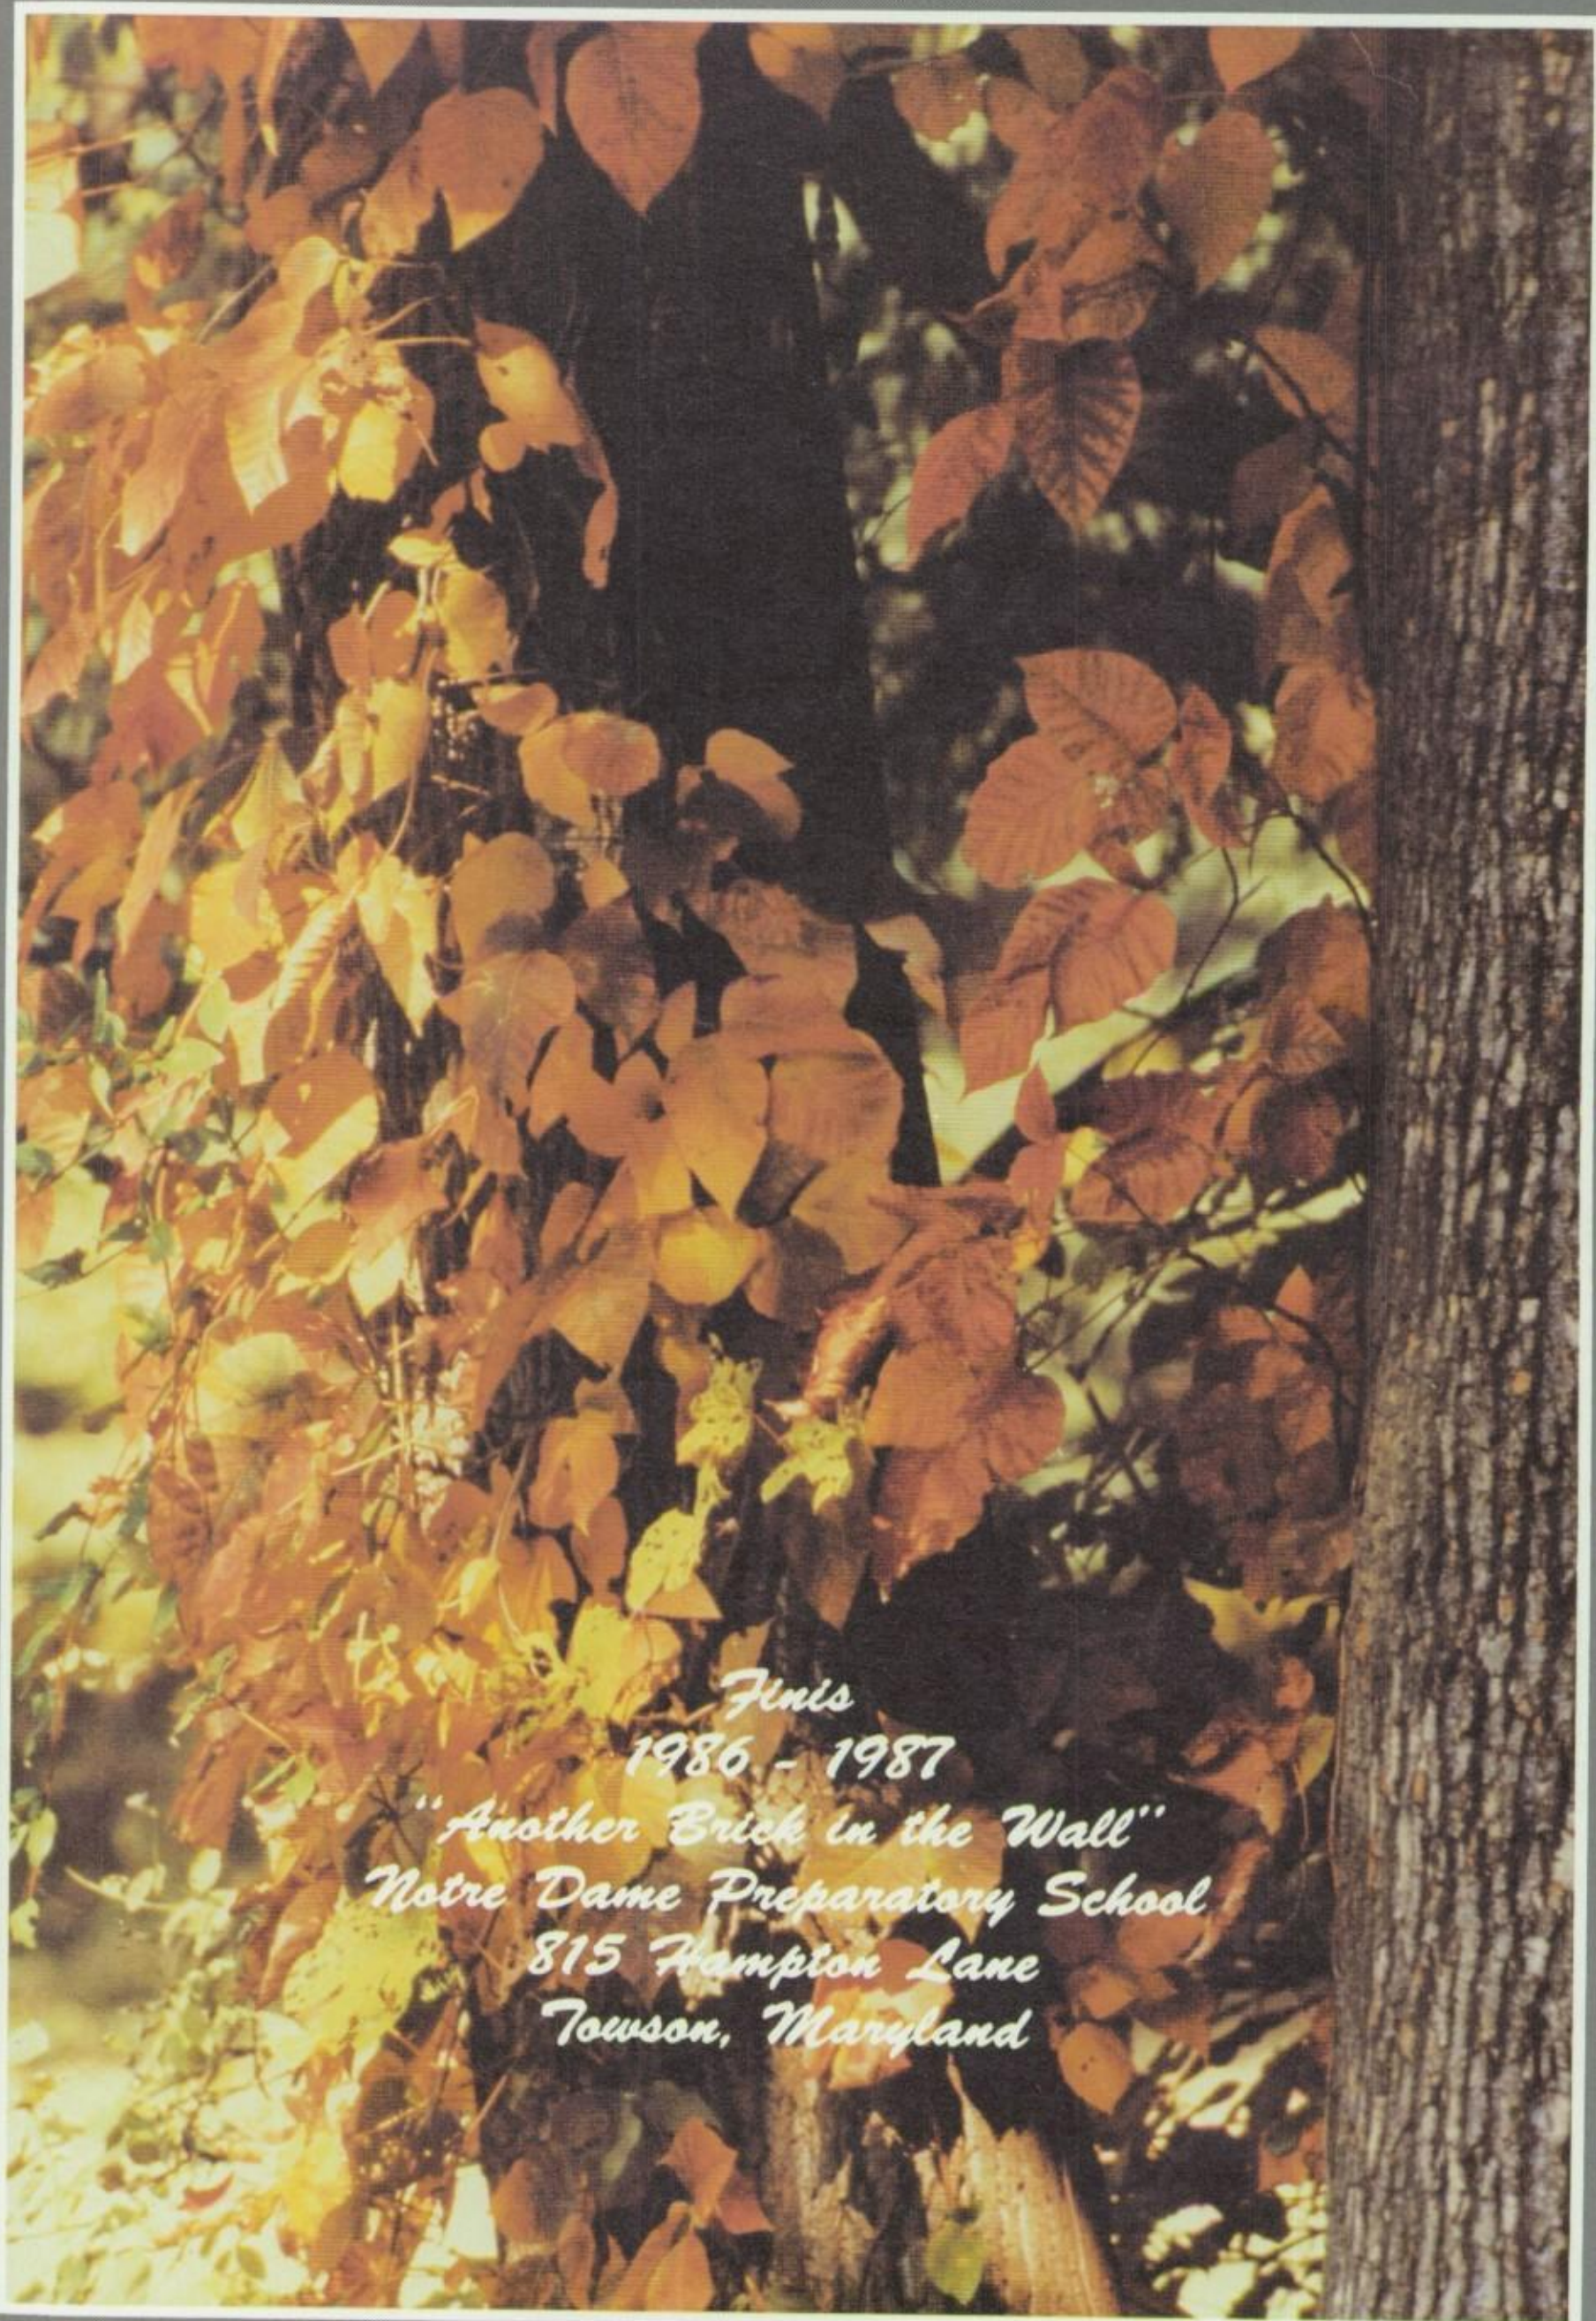

Dear Diane,
Hi babe how ya
been. I've been great.
This year is going to be awesome!! Remember
vote for me for A.A. rep. Ya!!
Love ya,
Sprout.

Teen Dianne!,
Noby wrote on this page so I decided to use it. Oh I forgot to say Hello! better late than never. We've been through so much ex. stress in 7-9th grade
I.P.S exams and now ~~Sung~~ (just kidding) Ha Ha
Last year was fun this year will be great!
One more trip down memory lane remember my babytalk and faces and Sa. Rita in Religion.

See ya later
Noby
(remember)

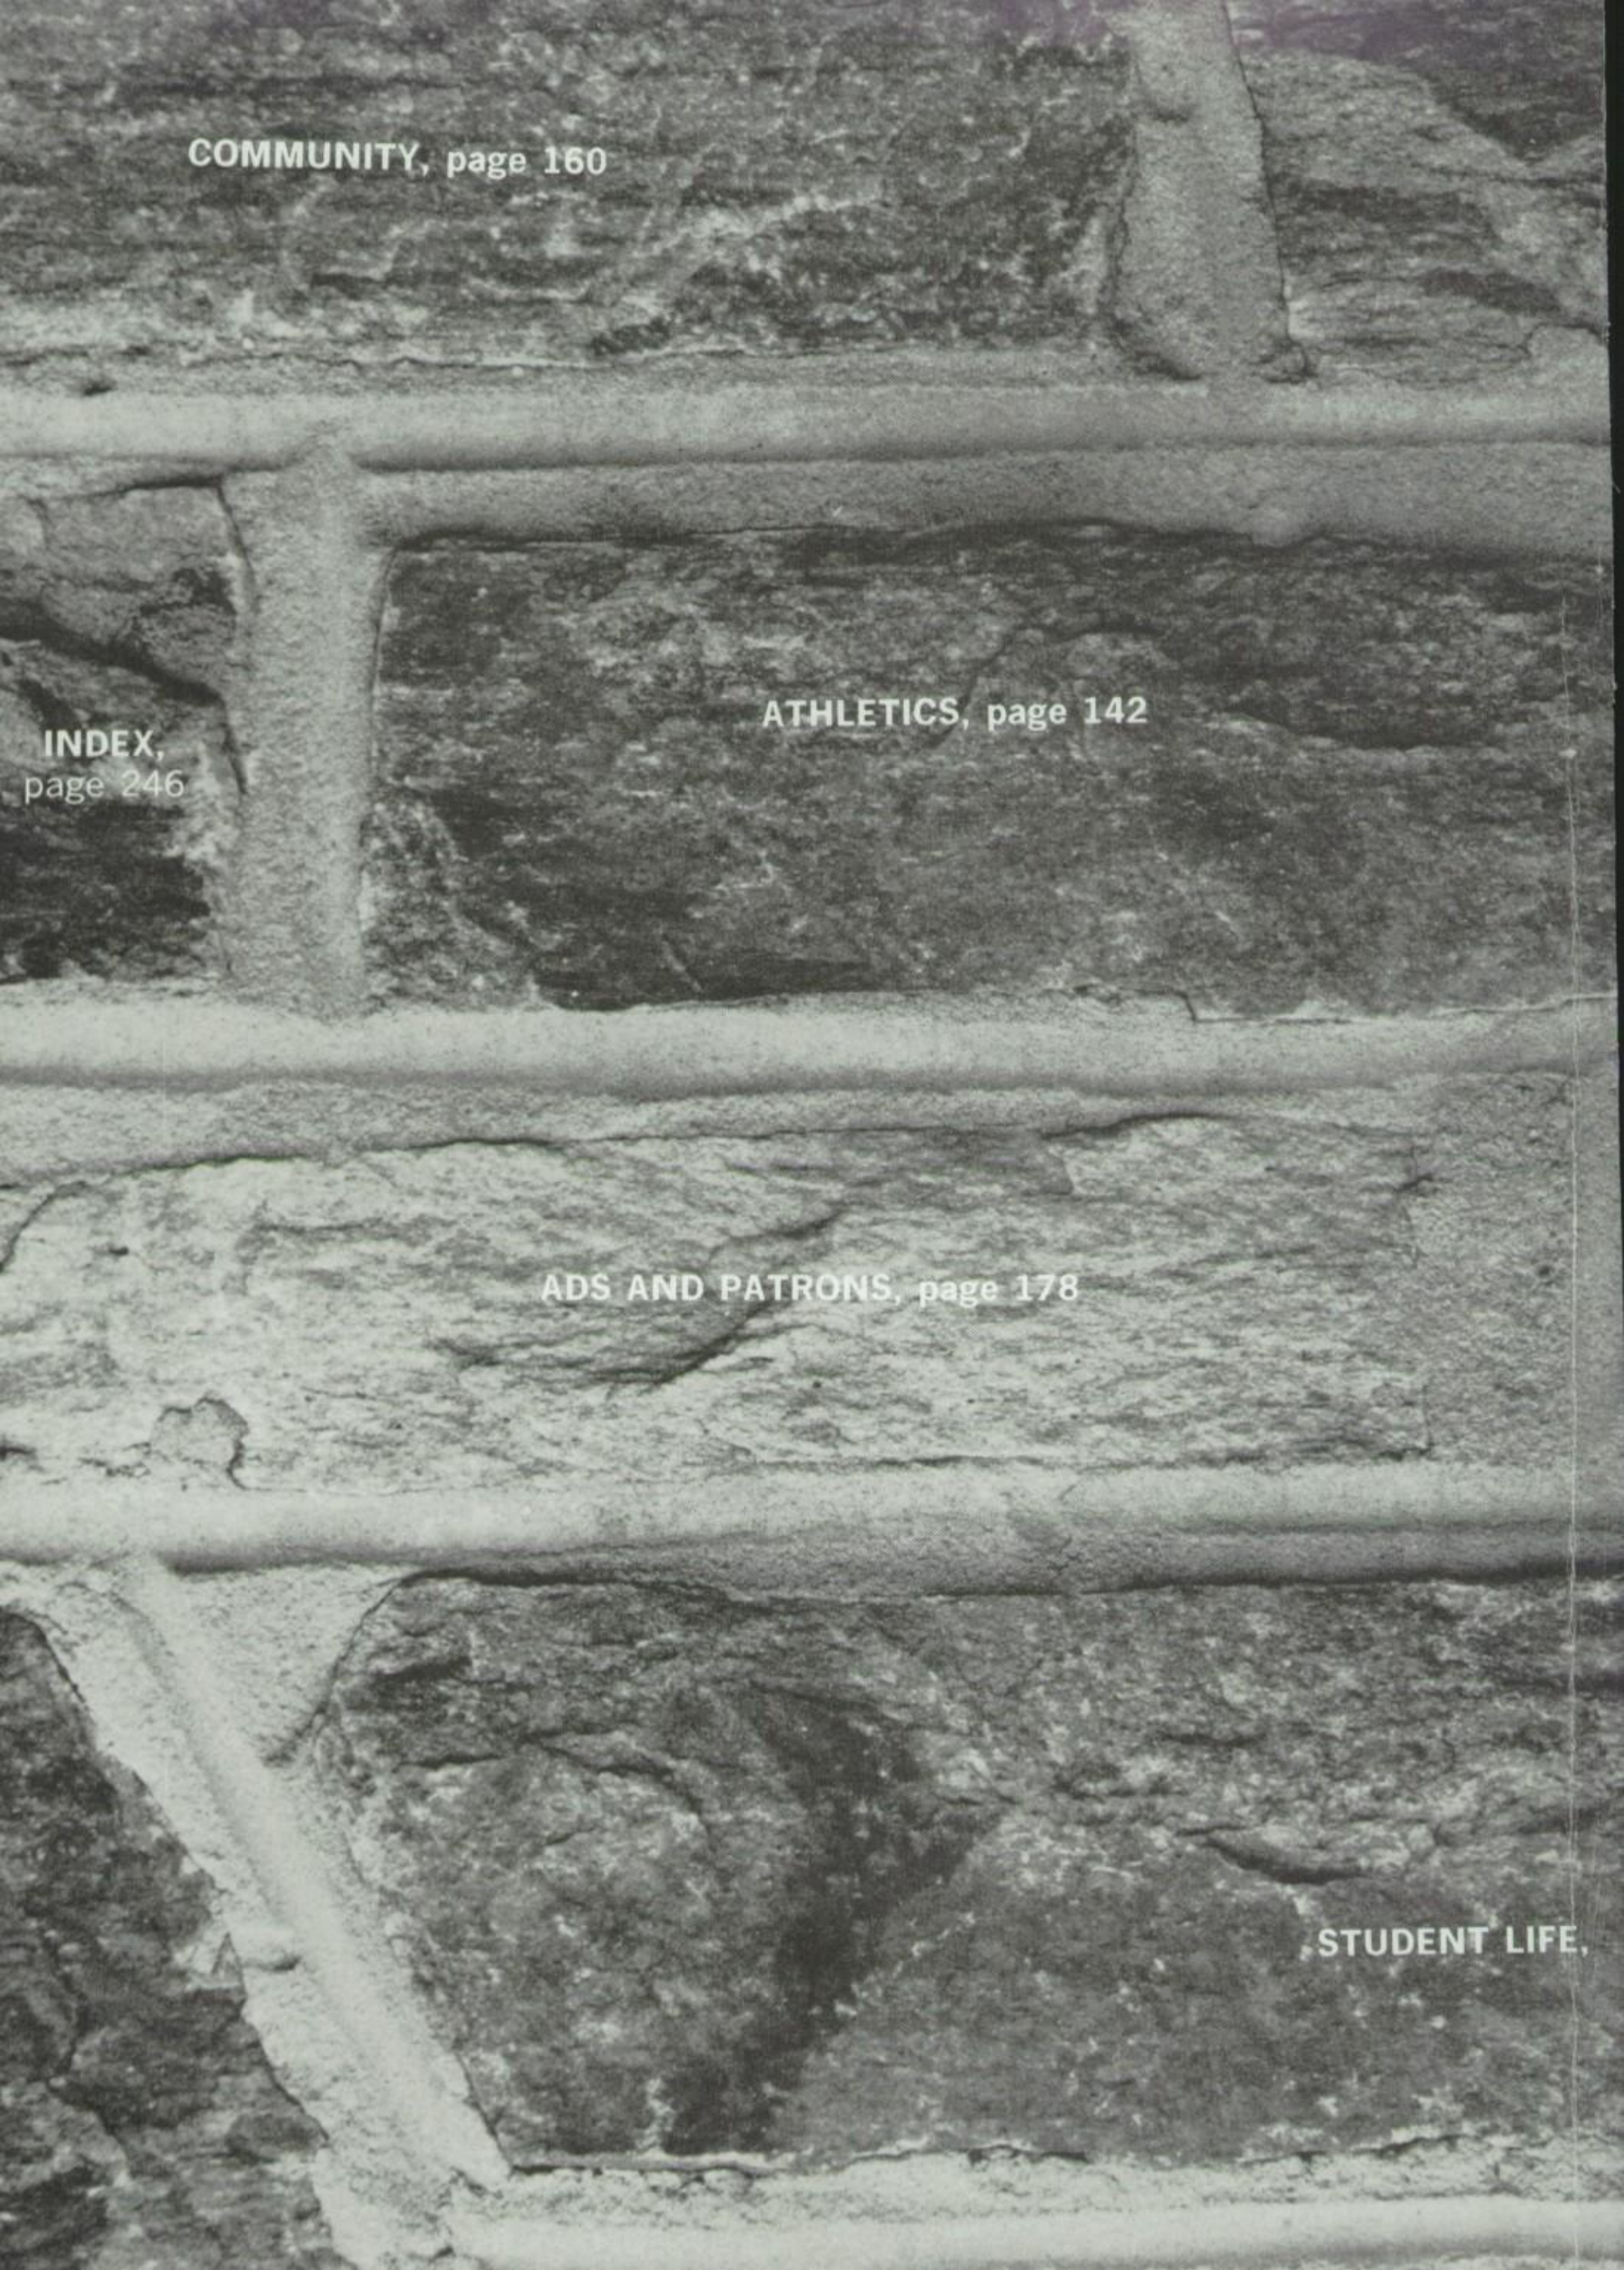

Dear Diane,
far! (yes, ~~as~~ right) PS was great last you set anything on fire lately. We did you pyromaniac? Probably. We did a nice job in running lab equipment
last year - about 3 alcohol burners, a few test tubes, ~~or~~ about 400 matches (all because of you) +
God knows what else. How pm + going to survive Biology without you? Oh, well, at least we have español again. Wow, what fun!
Luv ya,

The front of the school looks empty; everyone can sense a change and a difference. As the Celebration year closes, it becomes a memory all will cherish. Everyone now begins to look forward to a new beginning.

The walls of Notre Dame are not merely of stone and concrete. These walls are filled with countless memories created by the students and faculty; without these "stones," the everlasting bond that exists would not be.

Each one of us is constantly adding new stones to our wall of memories. In doing this, the Notre Dame spirit and unity grows and strengthens with this wall. And with each stone, we grow ourselves. This year we all are working hard to continue building and planning for our future, working hard with each stone carefully to strengthen our walls of memories and of Notre Dame, and thus our theme for Finis 1987 is Another Brick in the Wall.

CONTENTS

ARRIVING ON CAMPUS IN

The morning after. The party's over. A general mood of "the day after" struck in September. Students sensed that 1986-1987 would have a different spirit.

As we arrived back on campus on September 8, 1986, we realized that the party was finally over. The front of the school was barren and empty. The Celebration banner was gone. There were no reminders of the great celebration which had taken place only a year ago.

Although nothing was left to remind us, we shall still carry the memories of the past which further strengthens the bonds among us all. Most of the memories of the Celebration year were good and unforgettable, but all of us are glad it is over. We now can finally look towards our future rather than dwell on the past.

Many students thoroughly enjoyed the Celebration year and its activities, but most are glad that it has ended. Theresa Barbers, a junior, believed that, "It was nice to be a part of the Celebration year, since it was something special. But after a while, the school did begin to make too much of it." Also, according to Kathy Gerwig, a senior, "The Celebration year was a nice experience. There was a special spirit as the year began and plans were being made."

"Thank God it's over!"-Laurie Semon

Despite all the excitement of being a part of the Celebration party, most students and faculty are more than willing to leave the Celebration year behind in order to concentrate on what is ahead. We all carry the memories of the year, which will last longer than any banner. But we also want to leave yesterday behind, so that we can concentrate on the present and future. Although the party is over, it will last forever in our memories, and we can at last look ahead to the future.

HAVING FINISHED CELEBRATI

Below: A group of juniors at Marlu Ridge are in training to be "future Seniors."

The future of the students of Notre Dame will soon be changing. The world is becoming more advanced in technology, and the students must be prepared for this complicated world. According to Mr. Waters and Mrs. Woods, within the next five years there will be many changes taking place in Notre Dame which will affect the school as a whole

Committees have been formed such as the steering committee, which consists of faculty, board, and administration members. These committees will make recommendations in certain areas such as finance, curriculum, and student activities; they will also advise on matters of future changes which are unknown at this point. The Board of Trustees will give a final approval and initiate these changes, finally incorporating them into the school.

Who will be affected by this program? Well, it is difficult to see what could happen in the next five years, but the incoming freshmen will definitely be involved. The faculty, administration, and future students of Notre Dame are to be affected, and this long range program will be very important, as its purpose is to prepare NDP's students so they will succeed in this changing world.

Along with the faculty committees, Finis 1987 is also looking at the future—the freshmen, sophomores, and especially the juniors who will lead next year's students. Caught in their funny moments, these students show us what the world is coming to.

IIA takes a break for a picture on retreat.

"Why don't you take their picture first?" Sara McCracken, Stacey Seward & Kerri Reed are with their freshmen on Initiation.

A special togetherness characterizes Notre Dame. A very unique spirit of unity prevails throughout the NDP community. Various activities involve each class as they work together, and the students within each class as they do the same. Thus, an intricate bond is created that builds and strengthens our wall of memories.

According to senior class president Kelly Quinn, "The unity that binds Notre Dame students and faculty takes on an energy that is shared by all. This energy comes from experiencing the trademarks and traditions of Notre Dame. Every student at one time or another has owed money to Mrs. Cullen, quibbled with Rose or Pearl, borrowed a gym uniform from Mrs. May, cried on retreat, received onyx and gold, or cheered during a Gym Meet. Instances like these form bonds within a class, between the student body, and among the entire

Notre Dame community."

Tradition is the greatest bond among us all; the activities that keep us closest are those which have lasted the longest. For the seniors, this includes the senior lounge, the New York trip and Initiation; for the juniors, Ring Day and Dance, and Junior Retreat; for the sophomores, Sophomore Project; and for the Freshmen, Initiation. These traditions build and strengthen our community.

Tradition also includes important activities that transcend the classes, bringing those from different classes closer. The most important is Gym Meet, but there are also sports, committees, intramurals, dances, social services, liturgies, and assemblies. As we all work and play together, everlasting memories are continually created; thus, our great wall of memories grows and strengthens and bonds everyone together as they themselves grow.

ANOTHER BRICK IN THE WALL

STUDENT LIFE

The walls of Notre Dame's student life consist of varying "bricks" or activities that unite the students and faculty. Tradition brings about the most substantial foundation upon which our memories are built. Traditions that we are familiar with create a special and unique bond between the classes and individual students.

Each of us shares experiences in this close-knit community of NDP; whether it be at a dance, game, or other activity, there is always a familiar face. Students attend these activities in part to bring themselves together, so that they may have fun together; this in turn strengthens our relationships. Thus, everlasting friendships are created and with them, more memories to add to our wall of memories.

Such are the qualities of student life at Notre Dame; tradition serves as the strongest possible foundation for everlasting and pleasant memories which will last forever.

IT'S A BIRD, IT'S A PLANE!

Imagine 120 Superfriends - all living at NDP! Believe it or not, this happened, and much, much more! On Tuesday September 30, the freshman class arrived at school, adorned in the colors of the senior class. Pink and grey ribbons and signs announcing the admiration of their big sisters decorated the freshmen's uniforms. Everyone was ready for an exciting adventure in the metropolis.

Initiation took place at the Hall of Jusice (i.e. the auditorium). The class of 1990 mysteriously transformed themselves into Spiderman, Batman, Superman, Wonder Woman, and the Wonder Twins to reveal their superhuman powers to their sisters. Excitement mounted as the super-friends battled to be named the best in their respective homerooms.

Afterwards, everyone piled into the cafeteria as the seniors feasted on the gourmet lunches provided by the loyal freshmen. That evening, both classes enjoyed a dinner prepared by the seniors along with a scavenger hunt, awards, and a slide show.

For the first time this year, Initiation took place entirely within the walls of Notre Dame. Although some seniors and freshmen were disappointed, the evening turned out fine. "I wished at first that it wasn't all at Notre Dame, but I ended up enjoying myself," explained freshman Katie Smith.

JUNIORS UNITE ON RETREAT

On October 22, 1986 the junior class loaded the buses to go on their Junior Retreat. The places visited for the three days of reflection were the Loyola Retreat House, Skycroft, Blue Ridge Summit, Chesapeake and Marlu Ridge. Many girls had the preconception that retreat was going to be boring and totally involving religion. Once they arrived, however, they soon learned that this was going to become one of their happiest memories of NDP.

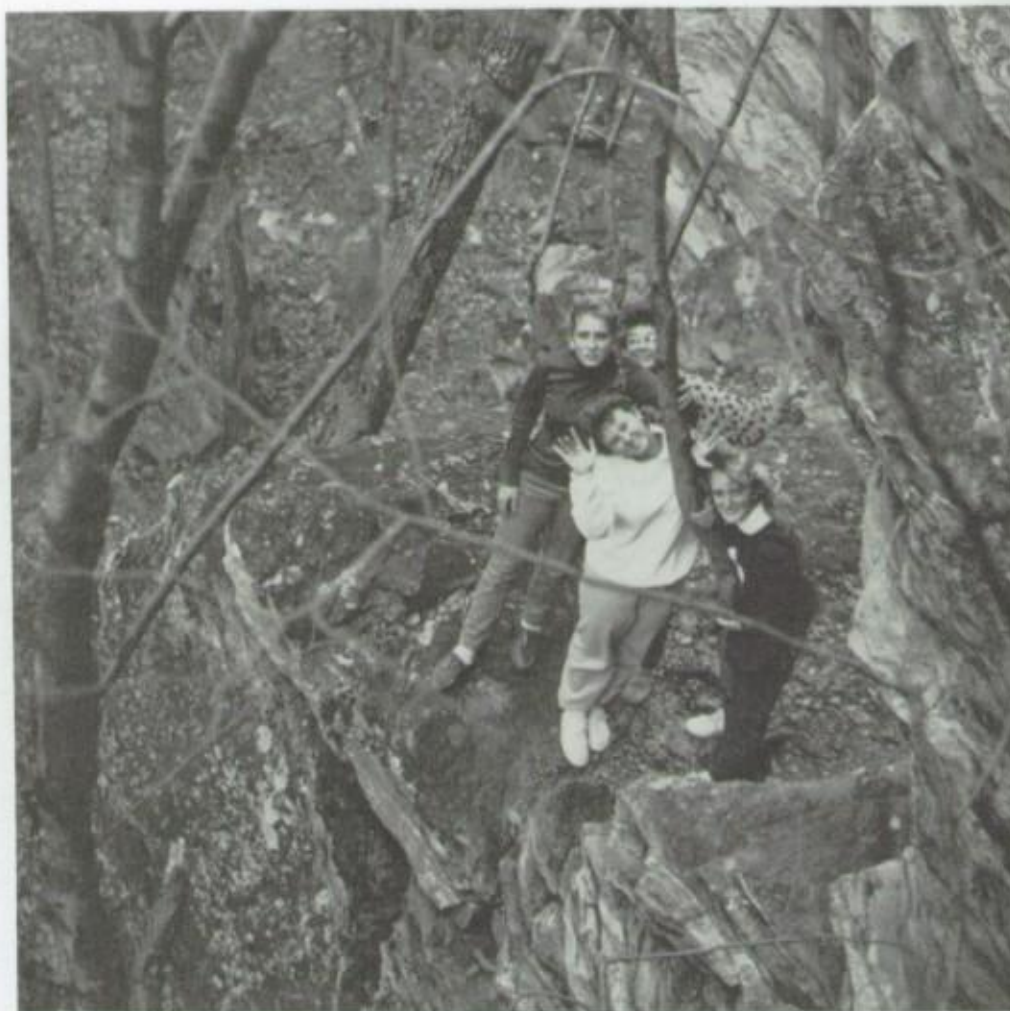

Most of the activities actually involved personal relationships, problems, and experiences. By taking part, the girls explored their own lives and relationships with others. As a whole, the juniors said they gained much from retreat and became closer as a class. The three days of relaxation were enjoyed by everyone, as they turned out to be one of the best memories for the class of '88.

JUNIORS ARE FOREVER YOUNG

The long awaited day, November 7th, finally arrived. The girls of the class of '88 were finally to receive their class rings. The day began with a mass for the juniors and their families, celebrated by Fr. James Finley. "Let today embrace the past with remembrance and the future with longing" was the chosen theme for the liturgy.

Following the blessing of the rings, each girl processed to the auditorium and, in front of the student body, faculty, family and friends, proudly received her ring from Sr. Helen Marie. The juniors' class president, Karen DeSantis, then gave a speech expressing the class unity each felt as a result of her three years at Notre Dame. The juniors sang their theme song set to the music of "Time in a Bottle", they then moved into the foyer for a reception with family and friends.

That evening, NDP's newest upperclassmen continued their celebration at their long-awaited ring dance. They danced to the sound of Big Noise and, at the conclusion of the dance, the theme song "Forever Young" played as each girl's date turned her ring for the 88th time.

HEY, CHARLIE BROWN!

Samantha Wilson as Snoopy flies against the Red Baron.

Happiness is this year's production of You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown at Notre Dame. As always, the play was under the aegis of Miss Maggie Ward, who was helped by Ms. Cathe Snyder and many other faculty members. The lead roles for the play were portrayed by Kevin Filan as Charlie Brown, Susan Filar as Lucy Van Pelt, Samantha Wilson as Snoopy and Rob Caulfield as Linus Van Pelt. Many other hardworking students, especially Katie Dregier as Peppermint Patty, also contributed to this great production. The unsung heroines of the play, the stage crew, were Molly Delea, Claudia Haines, and Megan Sullivan. And their tremendous effort for six weeks resulted in a magnificent production of You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown.

'90 VISITS NEW YORK

The girls of the class of 1990, with captain Kerry Sheehan, were excited about and thoroughly enjoyed their first Gym Meet. Their theme '90 Takes A Bite Out of the Big Apple' was artistically represented in their poster which was an excellent representation. And the freshmen dazzled the audience, as they danced on Broadway and displayed their talents on both nights.

The freshmen worked well together and this would not have been possible without the various committees and chairpeople. For march, song, dance, and aerobics, the committee chairpeople were Mary Paz Sequeira, Katie Wallace, Carolina Lobo, and Kristen Naumen, respectively. Also indispensable were Maria D' Ambrogi, Nicky Crane, Nicole Regner, and Jennifer Garcia, who directed the costume, make-up, odds and ends, and poster committees, respectively.

'89 GOES UNDERCOVER

This year the class of green and gray was led by Kelly Bass in Gym Meet '87 as their theme was "'89 Solves A Crime." With all their spirit and hard work, the sophomore class got its act together with only three weeks of practice. And the committee chairpersons were a big help to Kelly in teaching the class, and they also helped to keep up the enthusiasm for Gym Meet.

The chairpersons for March, Song, Dance, and Aerobics were Lisa Karr, Mandy Stokes,

Emily Cootauco, and Jennifer Berman, respectively. Behind the scenes, there were the Costume, Make-up, Odds & Ends, and Poster committees, which were led by Debbie Washington, Alison Sutphin, Valerie Casey, and Maria Robertson. The class of '89 proved themselves to be an outstanding class this year and with the continuation of their spirit and unity, they have a great shot at the Silver Cup in next year's Gym Meet.

JUNIORS TAKE A GAMBLE

How much is two-and-a-half points worth? They made all the difference in the world to the juniors who had an exciting Gym Meet this year as they came in at a close second to the seniors. Molly Schwartz, as captain, helped the juniors work together as one. And as a result of this, the class of '88 merited the song and aerobics plaques.

Indispensible in this accomplishment were Karen Kahl, Susan Filar, Trisha Longbottom, and Kelly Kilroy, chairpersons for the march, song, dance, and aerobics committees, respectively. Also, the costume, make-up, odds & ends, and poster committees were equally necessary, as they were led by Annie Groeninger, Holly Norico, Laurie Hubbard, and Aurora Esquela.

'87'S AERIAL VIEW

Once again the class of 1987 was led by Beth Ryan as Gym Meet captain. The theme of the year was "'87's Aerial View" and the girls flew away with a victory and the prize: the long awaited Silver Cup. But that victory did not come easily. The girls had to work very hard for three weeks. The chairpersons of the various committees were the girls who set the plan for the senior class. Jennifer Sheehan, Melissa Stokes, Ann Pellicano, and Debbie Schap served as chairpersons for March, Song, Dance, and Aerobics, respectively. Also, Cindy Arciaga, Lisa Boyd, Katie Schneid, and Debbie Gfeller added the finishing touches as chairpersons for the Costume, Make-up, Odds & Ends, and Poster committees.

Not only should the chairpersons of the committees be thanked, however, but also the girls of the senior class. The spirit and unity of the class was great and this paid off, as the seniors won the March and Dance plaques and their poster was awarded first place. And along with the dedication of the girls, Gym Meet Moderator Mrs. Holly Adolf and Gym Meet Manager Jennifer Patchak put much into this event to make it special. Gym Meet '87 ultimately was a great success, as was the class of hot pink and gray.

MODS 5 AND 6

Below: Miss Kim Parizek and Mrs. Teresa Toohey, "the fanners," fan Miss Mary Louise Bartel.

Every Wednesday morning, during mods 5 and 6, the Notre Dame students enter the auditorium to be entertained by various assemblies. These included Tomi Casciero's Mime, Harlequinade Beth Kalbach's Menagerie, the Fiddle Puppet Cloggers, and Mary Louise Hickey's Pygmalion. Other assemblies were school related. Included were the presentation of candidates for the various school organizations, the concert and choir groups, Who's Who, and the National Honor Society assemblies. This year the faculty spoofed the assemblies in their Student Appreciation Day activity.

'89 GOES SAILING

On March 16, a group of sophomore biology students, equipped with gloves and hats, boarded the Osprey and sailed out into the Baltimore Harbor. The Osprey stopped at different locations in the harbor, and the students conducted many experiments. Among other things, these young scientists measured the depth, the salinity, and the nitrogen content of the water. Despite the cold and wind, the students, in the words of one student, "had a great time." The trip was sponsored by Mrs. Judy Phillips, the sophomore biology teacher.

GETTING AWAY FROM IT ALL

On Friday, May 1, twelve seniors and five faculty members retreated to Summit Lake for a weekend of reflection and relaxation. Those faculty who joined the retreat led by Sr. Sharon Kanis were Mrs. Lucy Hawkins, Ms. Cathe Snyder, Miss Clare Twomey and Miss Diane Vanner. Though the rain on Saturday kept almost everyone inside, Lisa LaVina ventured out horseback riding and several girls went rowing.

Senior retreat is a special time and it allows girls to have a chance to pull their thoughts together, relax, and think about what the four years at Notre Dame have meant to them.

FIELD FUN WITHOUT SUN

The Athletic Association's final school-wide event for the year, field day, was held on Thursday, May 14. After an assembly, the girls participated in such games as dodge ball, flag football, wand woman, softball and capture the flag. The games were followed by lunch and the traditional sister races.

The faculty-senior softball game was then played. After the faculty victory, everyone gathered in the courtyard for the senior farewell liturgy. Due to the lack of sunshine, the usual sun-burns were avoided.

To end the day a picnic sponsored by the S.C., A.A. and C.C.A.P. began at 5:00. While most were eating, some girls decided to play frisbee and a final game of flag football. At the conclusion of the picnic the organization presidents thanked their officers for their help during the year. Thanks to the efforts of the organizers, field day was enjoyed by all.

A TIME TO REMEMBER

The class of hot pink and gray held their senior prom at the Hunt Valley Marriot on Shawan Road. The festivities began at 8:00 p.m. and continued until 12:00 a.m. The band was the Klassixs and the theme song chosen by the seniors was "This is the Time to Remember" by Billy Joel. Although the receiving line was traumatic, the girls and their dates had a great time.

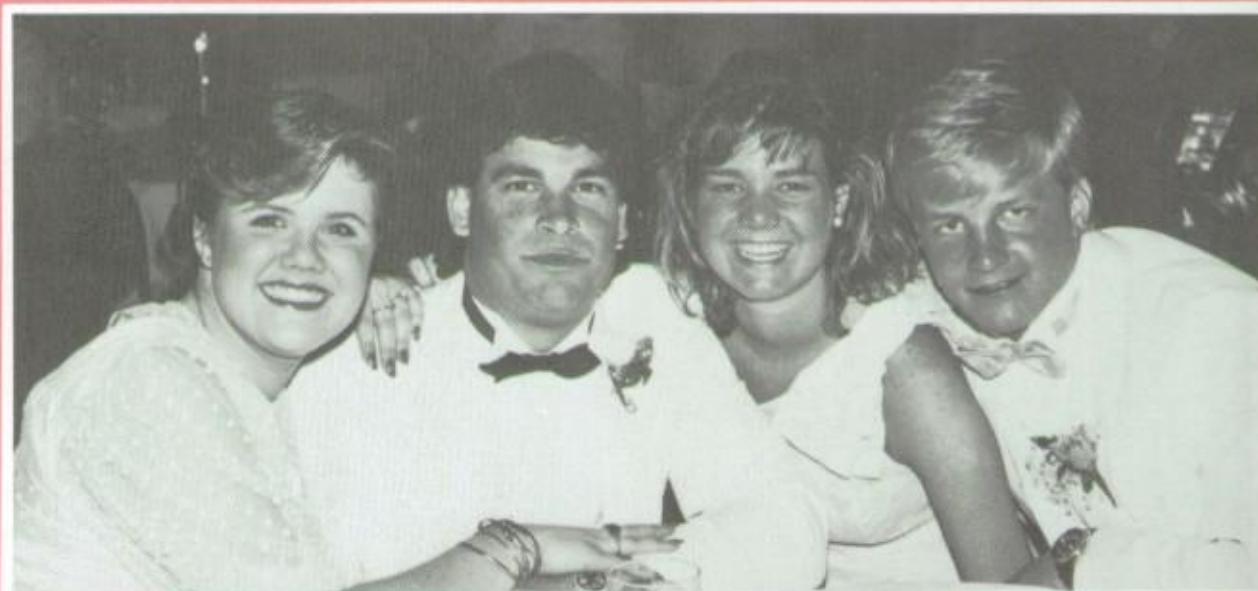

The night was great, and the various committees made this possible. Laurie Semon as prom chairperson, Kate Schneid as the fundraising chairperson, and Stephani Lumpkin as decorations chairperson were indispensable. Also, Amy McDonagh and Julie Rafalko designed the invitations, and favors were chosen by Michele LaVerghetta and Joanie Pudloski.

CHANGING SEASONS

With a liturgy theme of seasons, the liturgical planning committee, along with the campus ministers, prepared many unique liturgies this year. Our All Saint's Day mass focused on how we can show our true selves. To portray this, each student designed a mask to wear during the service. Our Thanksgiving liturgy was just as original with the unforgettable "every Kernel counts" slogan, where we shared popcorn and learned everyone is special, both individually and as a whole.

Each liturgy of the '86-'87 school year centered on the changing seasons; everyone participated in the traditional mass, but the emphasis upon a certain originality in this participation proved to make each liturgy a memorable experience. And as a result of this originality, the Christmas liturgy, Gym Meet liturgy, and the Senior Farewell liturgy still remained the most popular and enjoyable. The senior liturgy reps were Maria Ballesteros, Shannon Doyle, Lizzie Bliss, Janet Kelly, and Kris Stefansic.

UNTIL NEXT TIME

It's finally over. After four long years of hard work (at least for some), rough times, good times, and friendships, the class of 1987 realized that the time had come to move on to college. On May 27, 1987 the day to say "until next time" arrived, as the girls first processed into the chapel where each received a bouquet of a dozen red roses. The girls then proceeded into the auditorium where each received her long anticipated diploma. Sr. Helen Marie distributed these diplomas, as well as various awards and scholarships. Also, the girls had the pleasure of having Sr. Oliver of the College of Notre Dame as their honorary guest speaker. Needless to say, this senior graduation was an occasion for joy, but also one of sadness and waterproof mascara.

THE END

The White Dance marked the ending of four years at Notre Dame for the class of '87. It was a final celebration, sponsored by the Parents Association, for the girls to be together as a class.

The dance was held on Friday, May 29th at 6:30 p.m. at Doyle Hall at the College of Notre Dame. Dancing began shortly after dinner with music by the band, Jr. Cline and the Recliners.

This year the Parents Association, in conjunction with the students, voted to leave the dresses unaltered. The girls were allowed to change the length of the dresses for ease of mobility but nothing else was to be added to the dresses. The tables were decorated with pieces of pink and gray material that were used for sashes and bows. This was a fun evening of dancing and celebration for all.

SC HAS SPIRIT

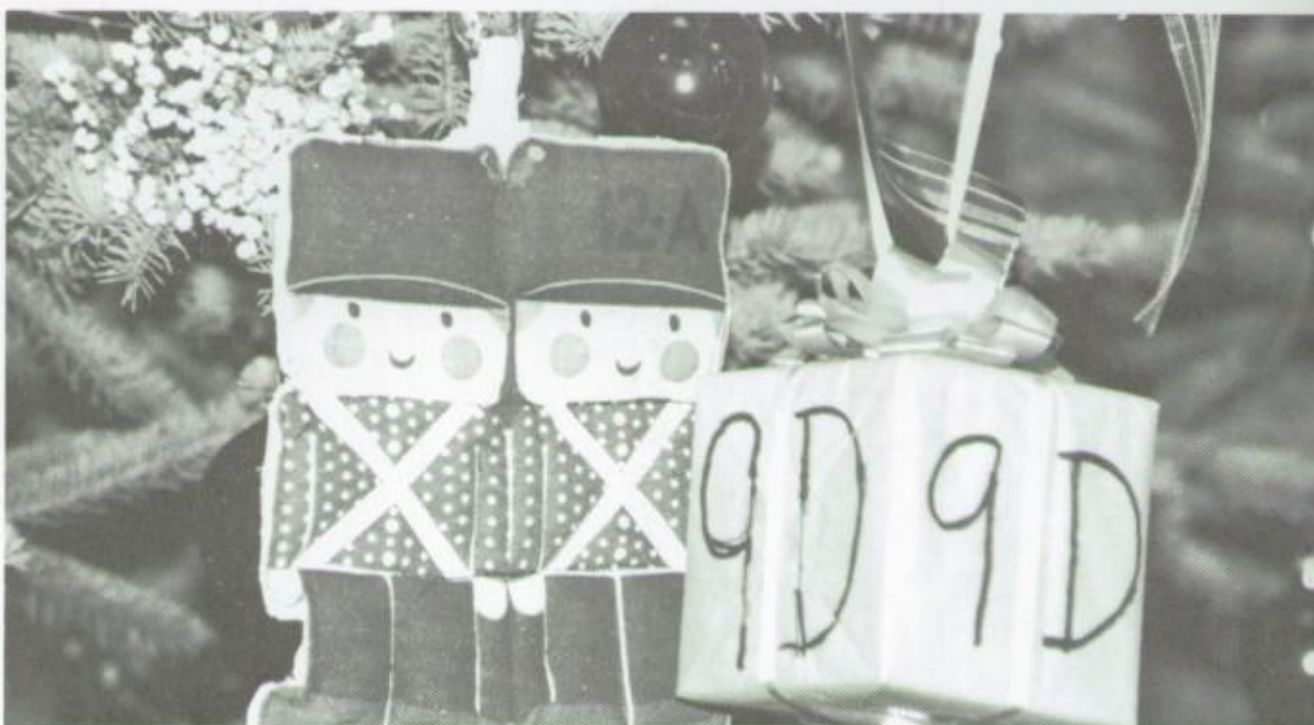

The Student Council for 1986-87 was led by Mikella Gallagher. Mikella put in much hard work and she was helped by vice-president Sinead Quinn, treasurer Maria Cummings, secretary Emily Cootaucó, and chairperson of social affairs Nikki Verdecchia. Miss Diane Vanner and Miss Patty McCarron served as moderators for the SC and helped out a great deal.

Once again the student council sponsored many activities for the school such as the Mother Daughter Luncheon, Have a Heart Week, The Tree Trim at Christmas time, and the book sale at the beginning of the year. Other exciting events which were sponsored by the SC were the Who's Who assembly and the SC Dance in the spring. These activities are ones which everyone looks forward to and enjoys. Senior SC reps were Katie Dregier, Colle Lake, Molly Mahoney, Kelly Rittenhouse, Rachelle Retoma and Jennifer Sheehan.

AS THE BALL BOUNCES

The Athletic Association sponsored many events, such as the A.A. Dance, Gym Meet, Intramurals, the Athletic Awards Banquet, Field Day, and the A.A. Ski Trip.

The A.A. officers for '86-'87 were Lisa LaVina as president and Anne Groeninger as vice-president. Molly Delea served as A.A. secretary and Amy Conrad helped with the funds as treasurer. The various homeroom representatives also helped to keep their prospective homerooms on the ball. The senior representatives for 12A, 12B, and 12C were Ellen Buckley, Susan Patzwall, and Ann Pellicano, respectively, while Tay Brattan and Stephani Realo were the reps for 12D and 12E. This year's A.A. moderators were Mrs. Holly Adolph, Miss Mary Bartel and Miss Kim Parizek.

CCAP EXCITEMENT

What NDP organization could be best symbolized by a vampire? The one responsible for collecting blood from students and faculty and donating it to the Red Cross. The Christian Community Awareness Program also sponsors such events as Dress-Up Day, collections for Christmas families, the Christmas Dance, Penny Queen to raise money for charity, and CCAP Awareness Day. The president of CCAP is Kelly Hartman who according to moderator Mr. Andrew Tomlinson "has done an extraordinary job," assisted by Kristin Shabb, the vice president, Bonnie Washington, the treasurer, and Amy Panella, the CCAP secretary. The senior CCAP reps were Heather Hoag, Michele Myers, Katie Schneid, Monica Thacker, and Brooke Turner.

FINIS

On any given day, the staff could be seen busily selecting and cropping pictures, interviewing students and faculty, or writing copy and captions. And, due to the fact that this yearbook is the largest Notre Dame has ever had, the students strove to put forth an extra effort to meet the deadlines and finish all the work. Although this responsibility was at times demanding, each staff member managed to gain new experiences and have much fun at the same time.

Finis has had the most successful year yet in terms of income; especially in its sales of ads and patrons. Much of this is due to the hard work of the Finis reps. This year's senior reps deserve much credit. Katie Gresia, Sarah Maher, Jackie Smith, Raquel Baetz and Stephanie Lumpkin were reps for the class of 1987.

DOING IT WRITE

The two Notre Dame publications (besides Finis, of course) consisted of the school paper, Gateway, and creative writing magazine, Esprit. Mr. William Waters is the faculty advisor of both publications.

The '86-'87 Gateway staff was headed by Kristen Osenburg, the Editor-in-Chief. They published three more issues of The Gateway before turning the publication over to the Journalism I class with Alexis Jones and Mary Lisa Williams as Co-Editors-in-Chief. The Journalism I class put out an additional publication before officially taking over the Gateway in order to gain extra publishing experience. This Getaway was a newspaper spoof of great success. They put out two more issues of

The Gateway with the final issue traditionally being distributed on Award's Assembly day. Both staffs exhibited innovative technique and style.

The 1987 Creative Writing Class also added a new publication to the Notre Dame pool called the Esprit Preview, printed in newspaper size, which consisted of a glimpse of poetry and short stories written by the class. Their final publication, Esprit magazine, came out near the end of the year and was distributed to all high school classes at the same time. Editor of Esprit as Sandy Tan with Cynthia Ignacio as designer. The publication turned out extremely well as both creative writings and artwork came together.

Esprit Staff: As One Forms Letters: Lisa Ward, Lisa Deakins, Cynthia Ignacio, Elaine Castle, Ann Rodavitch, Jennifer Patchak, Ande Schinzel, Karen Kammer, Katie Dregier, Amy McDonagh, Sandy Tan, Nikki Verdecchia, Christine Ngau, Sarah Hoff, Raquel Baetz, Kelly Rittenhouse.

SEC'S ANSWER

Alcohol. Teenage Pregnancies. Peer Pressure. Family Crises. These were some of the motivations behind the Student Executive Committee's sponsoring of a new peer group program at Notre Dame. Conceived by Caitlin Brune, Mikella Gallagher and Julie Rafalko, the program was organized by the Student Council and the SEC. Meetings were held over Christmas vacation and the SEC, along with Miss Patty McCarron, Ms. Cathe Snyder and Miss Diane Vanner, sifted through applications from would-be peer leaders.

Miss Clare Twomey agreed to act as peer group moderator and all of the group leaders underwent a six hour training session conducted by the Office of Youth Ministry. The actual meetings were designed to allow students from all four classes to discuss issues without adult interference. Seniors and juniors involved in the groups wished to emphasize safe, responsible behavior and to give everyone a chance to air concerns about pertinent issues such as stress, family relations, and friendships.

The program has met with mixed reviews. The quality of each group's discussion depends on its leaders, and an hour long session is daunting. Some variations in schedule have thus been proposed, with shorter meeting times, bimonthly rather than monthly meetings, and occasional speakers to vary the routine.

CLUBS AND ACTIVITIES

Notre Dame offers several clubs in which the girls are able to participate. The National Honor Society, Booster, and Twelve Year Clubs in particular are the most well known. The NHS is very important, as girls must have an excellent academic record and obvious leadership abilities in order to qualify. And under the leadership of president Karen Skalitsky, the 1986-87 NHS members were a great service to the school community as they helped in fundraising, tutoring, and ushering.

The Booster Club of '86-'87 was also important, as it brought several girls from different classes together. And as a group, these girls helped to raise the spirit of the NDP student by promoting and encouraging the attendance at various school activities under the leadership of their president Janet Kelly.

Finally, the Twelve Year Club of

'86-'87 included all seniors who had attended Notre Dame Prep since the first grade and have managed to keep their sanity through 12 years of being part of the NDP community.

Besides president Janet Kelly, this years Booster Club consisted of Carrie Halcomb, Ruwanthi Samaranyake, Melanie Saldana, Danielle Nicholson, Lisa Deakins, Mary Beth Kirkner, Kathy Gerwig, and Julie Tamburello.

12 Year Club: Sitting in Tree: Cindy Aralaga, Lisa LaVina, Amy McDonagh, Stephanie Lumpkin. PEOPLE

The strength of Notre Dame's wall of memories would never be the same without the special combination of the faculty and students; since both are an integral part of the school and its prevalent spirit, one cannot exist without the other. The bond uniting N.D.P. grows as each individual grows and interacts; without this growth and interaction, the school spirit could never be as strong.

N.D.P.'s faculty and administration are definitely a necessary part, as they keep the student body going and continually teach the girls new and interesting things. The girls themselves embody that which they are taught and the spirit which is found throughout Notre Dame. And it is this bond between the faculty and students that unites Notre Dame in a very special way.

Ann Pellicano, Julie Rafalko, Kerri Reed, and Jen O'Neil have a good time at the Father-Daughter dinner.

SPECIAL SENIOR SPIRIT

As the 1987 school year came to an end, the senior class of pink and grey spend their last year at Notre Dame. As each girl prepared herself for college and the future, she also cherished the memories of the past four years. There was a special and unique spirit within each senior, a spirit that brought the class together and bound each into an everlasting friendship.

As the year progressed from Freshmen Initiation to the New York trip and Gym Meet, the senior class stayed together. Life in the lounge taught the seniors much about getting along; an odd fixation and preoccupation with pink flamingos affected each student. First rate leadership from class president Kelly Quinn, and class treasurer, Caitlin Brune, led the class through the rough spots of the year.

In April, the class of '87 attended their senior prom at the Marriot. But, most importantly, the long awaited Graduation and White Dance arrived, as the seniors celebrated one more completed step in their lives.

It's time to say goodbye to Notre Dame, but the friendships and memories will remain with me forever. I'll never forget CD's shore house, crossing streets with MD in Philadelphia, Gym Meets, suitcases falling off the roof - Florida '86, our cafeteria food fights, being stranded in Eldersburg with our Exxon buddies, going to White Marsh in a snow storm with LD, and Ring Dance - stopping the pizza guy for directions!! Melissa, Laura, Chris - you are the best, Mom, Dad, Janie, Lisa, Edward - I love you very much!!

Always,

It seems like only yesterday when I entered shyly into the first grade with my newly acquired uniform and saddle shoes. Now both are small and worn out. Time somehow escaped me through all the struggles and worrying.

To my best friends (at least I hope so): Fergie, Bikino, Jackie-o, Christine, Kris and Paulie . . . thanks for being there.

To my parents, Ben and the Mick: You've got one more to go . . . so can I have a new car now?

Good luck to Melissa, the Egg and Grace

And finally, I'd like to thank NDP for all the memories that I will never forget. See ya around!

So much has happened these past four years at NDP. I'll always remember freshman year, dressing up as Grimace, Sr. Joannene and World Cultures and Typing and our first Gym Meet. Sophomore year was fun with Col. Peterson's U.S. History and Mr. Ciattei's Geo/Trig class. I'll especially remember winning the Gym Meet Song Plaque. Junior year was harder, but fun. Junior Retreat and Ring Day were great. Endless Parallel projects and essays kept me busy. Senior year was a busy one, with AP Bio, AP Calc, AP Eng, Russian, and College French. Thanks everyone, I'll miss you.

NDP, I realize with a sigh
The time is here to say goodbye
Looking back through the years
I remember the laughter and the tears.
As we all go our separate ways
Let's not forget the fun filled days.
To my friends who've been so sweet
You've made my 4 years here complete.
And although my pompoms are faded
Let's give a cheer because we made it.

Love, Heh Hah

I came her not knowing a soul

But friendships were soon made

That means more to me than words can say

Friends; we've been through so much together

Memories deep in my mind I'll always treasure

You will all be a part of me forever

Mom, Dad, Gramma, and Lou,

I want you to know I truly do love you

You've always given to me so willingly

And shown me the true meaning of the word family

Twelve years at Notre Dame are gone, but not really. I leave friends behind but they are still with me. Because as long as I remember the past, it's never really gone. That's what memories are for. It's all a matter of keeping some of the past in the present, to look back on, cherish and remember.

Mom, Dad, Kevin, and Felice - I Love you All. Wish me luck.

Susana - Your really made me grow.

Jen—Entering Notre Dame in your freshman year was both exciting and difficult. Working hard and creating forever lasting memories was by itself enough to last you a lifetime. Your friendship has been missed dearly and our love will be forever with you in hoping that those special friendships and memories will never fade. We love you—The Senior Class

Jen—There will never be enough words to say everything we shared. 8 years at St. Joseph's, those great Sherwood summers, our first years at Notre Dame. Thanks for everything you've given me—I'll always love you.—Melanie

'87's NEW MEMBERS

Mr. Ed Jacobs, Mr. Ken Day and Mr. Joe Taylor are the honorary class members for the class of pink and grey.

When the Class of '87 first began to choose an honorary class member, the nomination list was quite lengthy. So many teachers had helped and supported the class over the years, that no one person stood out. The class decided to honor with the title a group of men who far too often get taken for granted. Joe, Ken, and Ed spend hours shoveling snow, salting sidewalks, trimming grass, painting walls, and solving girls' problems. As the class began to hear comments on the nomination, girls shared stories of how helpful the crew has been. They have hot-shotted cars, retrieved lost retainers, and always greeted people with smiles and hellos. In recognition of their warm spirit, we welcome them as our honorary class members.

Barbara Minnick has hit the jackpot as president of Brief Encounters.

Kate Gaburick and Kerry Reed enjoy working on their economics project and earning lots of money at the same time.

JUNIOR SPIRIT

The class of pink and cream, Notre Dame's latest upperclassmen, have been through much together. And in their third year together, this class experienced new activities that strengthened their spirit and built their walls and memories.

Retreat was a special occasion, as each girl truly learned about herself, the junior class as a whole became increasingly unified. Then came Ring Day, the big day. Each girl finally became an upperclassman. But the day was not yet over; the long awaited Ring Dance finally arrived, bringing the class and their spirit together to celebrate.

Through these important events, the various school activities, and especially Gym Meet, an indestructible bond formed among the members of the Junior Class. And under the leadership of their class president, Karen De-Santis, and class treasurer, Maria Garin, the class of '88 showed their true colors.

JUNIORS: BECOME CLOSER FRIENDS

The class of pink and cream began the school year anxious to become the new upperclassmen of Notre Dame. Their retreat in October helped unify the juniors and made them even more ready to receive their rings on November 7, 1986. In March the class of 1988 joined again for Gym Meet and strove for the silver cup. Class president, Karen DeSantis, and treasurer, Maria Garin, worked to unite the juniors and prepare them for the excitement of senior year.

Homeroom 11A became closer through retreat at Mar-Lu Ridge. Their unity was also expressed through their bulletin board in room 125. This bulletin board was changed regularly to represent the homeroom's attitude towards each new event. Miss Clare Twomey commented, "They're the best bunch!" and under the leadership of S.C. rep Kim Meier, A.A. rep Kim Hitselberger, C.C.A.P. rep Maria Ramos and liturgy and Finis reps Heather Lloyd and Dawn Sammis 11A enjoyed one of its best years ever.

JUNIORS: JOIN TOGETHER FOR RETREAT

Junior Retreat is a spiritual gathering of the junior class homerooms in various retreat houses and camp grounds. The class unites to become closer as they prepare to become upperclassman on Ring Day. The girls have talk groups and discuss personal things about themselves that someone else may not know. The Junior Retreat is a great way to get to know all the girls in your class.

The junior homeroom teacher Miss Patty McCaron acted as a good example for the leaders in her homeroom. Michele Alatzas was the Student Council rep and the C.C.A.P. rep was Alexis Jones. Cecilia Maniago led 11B as the Finis rep, while Gretchen Zimmerman acted as the A.A. rep. Sharing the liturgy rep position were Maria Freeburger and Amy Elmore.

JUNIORS:

HIT THE JACKPOT

The class of 1988 united for Gym Meet '87 with their theme of "'88 Hits the Jackpot." Led by Gym Meet captain Molly Schwartz, the juniors were very spirited and ready to have fun and work hard. Shawn Donohue said, "The class is very excited this year and we have a good chance of winning." Each of the 130 girls was ready for a victory against the other classes and they were willing to bring their ideas together during the three weeks of practice. With the cooperation of all the girls, the class of hot pink and creme worked towards winning the silver cup.

In homeroom 11C, Mrs. Marion Stringer guided and helped the girls through the year. Homeroom representatives were Laurie Pilachowski for S.C., Carolyn Pirisino for C.C.A.P., and Katie Beernink for A.A. Other representatives included Julie Creech for Finis and Janene Heard for liturgy. These girls were chosen for their leadership qualities and throughout the year they worked hard to keep their classmates up to date on what was happening in each association.

Heather Personette, Laurie Michaud, Jenny Bowen and Heather Lloyd are going all out for a Gym Meet victory.

JUNIORS: THE TRADITION LIVES ON

Ring Day is an honored tradition at Notre Dame. It is a time when the junior class comes together as a whole as upperclassmen. Long months of preparation by committees to achieve the perfect day seem to last forever, but the final product is a morning of excitement and anticipation of the coming night. As friends and family gather to help the girls celebrate their special day, the students and faculty welcome the girls as permanent members of the Notre Dame community.

Miss Barbara Stankis was the homeroom teacher for 11D. Representing the A.A. was Paula Carlin and the S.C. rep was Katie Wyatt. Kathy Pendergrass was the active C.C.A.P. rep, while Molly Schwartz led the way for Finis. Last but not least was the liturgy rep, Betsey Roman.

Right: Alexis Jones officially becomes an upperclassman as she receives her ring from Sr. Helen Marie.

JUNIORS:

GO FOR THE GOLD!

As the evening began and the girls prepared for a night of excitement, dinner parties, and dancing, the school cafeteria was also transformed into a room full of decorative flowers and streamers. The sounds of Big Noise warming up in the background could also be heard as the girls began to arrive. The night passed quickly and before the new upperclassmen knew it, the various limos and vans arrived to whisk the girls and their dates away into a night of celebrating and breakfasts.

Miss Lynn Keigler acted as the homeroom teacher for 11E. The S.C. rep was Melanie Jubb and Jodi Williams was the C.C.A.P. rep. Representing Finis was Danielle Nicholson and the A.A. rep was Caitlin Ames. The liturgy rep for 11E was Sheila Sullivan.

Jen Ostrowski and her date anxiously await the dance at a dinner party.

In their second year at NDP, the class of '89 has grown in their spirit and deepened their friendships. When the sophomores arrived in September, the anxiety of freshman year disappeared, and Notre Dame was no longer the strange place it had once been. Now, as sophomores, Notre Dame has become a second home.

Not only did the sophomores renew their old friendships, but they also made new ones. Unity among friends developed into unity among the entire class, especially in such events as Williamsburg and Gym Meet, when the class of '89 successfully "solved the crime." Insights were shared during retreat, and many girls got to know each other better. The sophomores' spirit and unity were further expressed in their winning of the Penny Queen, Have a Heart, and volleyball banners. Perhaps at no other time was the class of green and gray more united than during Sophomore Project, when they were helping others.

SOPHOMORES: UNITE IN SPIRIT!

The sophomore class president, Claudia Haines, and the treasurer, Lisa Decker, were able to lead the sophomore class to unity and cooperation. Under these leaders, the sophomores conducted such projects as Merry Messages, a bake sale which raised over $80.00, and a trip to Seton Manor Nursing Home. Mrs. Anna Maria Storey, the sophomore class advisor, remarked that although the nursing home visit was "rough at first," the "large turn-out" and involvement of those who came was impressive. The sophomore class has certainly shown spirit and leadership in their second year at Notre Dame.

Sophomore homeroom 10A is known as the procrastinating class or as stated by spirit representative Inge Urbancic, "the homeroom that never brought anything in." But homeroom 10A always accomplished its goals in the end due to the spirited urgings of homeroom teacher, Mrs. Judy Phillips, and the homeroom representatives. Whether it was Mandy Stokes, S.C. rep, with her frequent reminders to bring in money for tickets to the school play, C.C.A.P. rep, Laura Lewandowski, with her requests for donations for the Dinner for the Elderly, or A.A. rep Jamie Huhn encouraging the sophomores to attend intramurals, "homeroom business" was always completed successfully. Who could forget liturgy rep Nancy Jones symbolically giving out popcorn seeds for the "Every Kernel Counts Liturgy," or Finis rep Mariel Pazourek reminding the sophomores to bring in their yearbook money?

SOPHOMORES: MAKE HISTORY

All the sophomores greatly enjoyed the class trip to Williamsburg. The tours of Jamestown and Williamsburg were both exciting and interesting and, most importantly the class got to know each other better. Many fond memories were made, and a good time was had by all.

Homeroom 10B proved itself this year to be a very close and spirited homeroom. Mrs. Anna Maria Storey, the homeroom teacher, calls them her "family." S.C. rep Kelly Bass was also Gym Meet Captain, which helped to keep spirit around Gym Meet time extremely high. Spirit rep Jenny Pogge also contributed to this spirit. C.C.A.P. rep Kim Dozier, A.A. rep Debbie Washington, liturgy rep Lisa Hall, and Finis rep Jennifer Jordan succeeded in getting their homeroom to support many school functions and events.

SOPHOMORES: INVESTIGATE CRIME

The class of green and gray became very excited as they prepared for their second Gym Meet with the theme of "'89 Solves A Crime." Sophomore Stephanie Cox said, "It's more fun this year because we know what to expect and we know a little more about what we are doing." The class was definitely "psyched" for Gym Meet, and they were happy to see that it was not too competitive. As a whole, the sophomores got along better amongst themselves, and with the other classes during Gym Meet '87.

In homeroom 10C, the girls not only shared their feelings on Gym Meet, but also on their homeroom itself. They feel that there is much spirit among those in the homeroom. And under the guidance of homeroom teacher Mrs. Margaret Walsh, the girls picked representatives for the S.C., C.C.A.P., A.A., liturgy, and Finis. The S.C. rep was Berna Kemahli, C.C.A.P. rep, Jenny Homer, and A.A. rep Cathy Kaminaris. 10C's liturgy rep was Kerri Cunningham, and finally, Kirstin Brightwell represented Finis. And it was under this leadership that these girls got along well together, making their homeroom of '87 unique.

SOPHOMORES: STAY AFTER FOR EXTRAS

The class of '89 were very involved in extracurriculars this year and participated in many sports, organizations and activities. Sophomores were the most prevalent class on the cast and crew of this year's musical, which is usually dominated by upperclassmen. The class of green and grey also won an impressive number of banners. Sophomores were also active on varsity teams, including field hockey, basketball, and lacrosse. This year's Sophomore Project was expanded to include a nursing home visit. The class of '89 made themselves felt on the after school scene.

Homeroom 10D, under the guidance of Mrs. Elaine Gorski, was also active in their share of activities. 10D's S.C. rep was Megan Sullivan, who worked on the musical, and Theresa Campagna was the A.A. rep. Moona Ghotbi represented C.C.A.P., while Mariangela Baxter helped Finis sell ads and patrons. LeShawn Gee, as liturgy rep, made an advent wreath. The smallest sophomore homeroom very appropriately used their baby pictures for this year's yearbook ad.

SOPHOMORES: JOIN AS ONE

Sophomore Project gives the sophomores experience in planning events together and unites them as a class. This year the class of '89 sent Candygrams at Christmas, visited the elderly at an area nursing home, and ran a car wash. All these activities were organized by class advisor Mrs. Anna Maria Storey, class president Claudia Haines, and class treasurer Lisa Decker. All money earned was donated to the school.

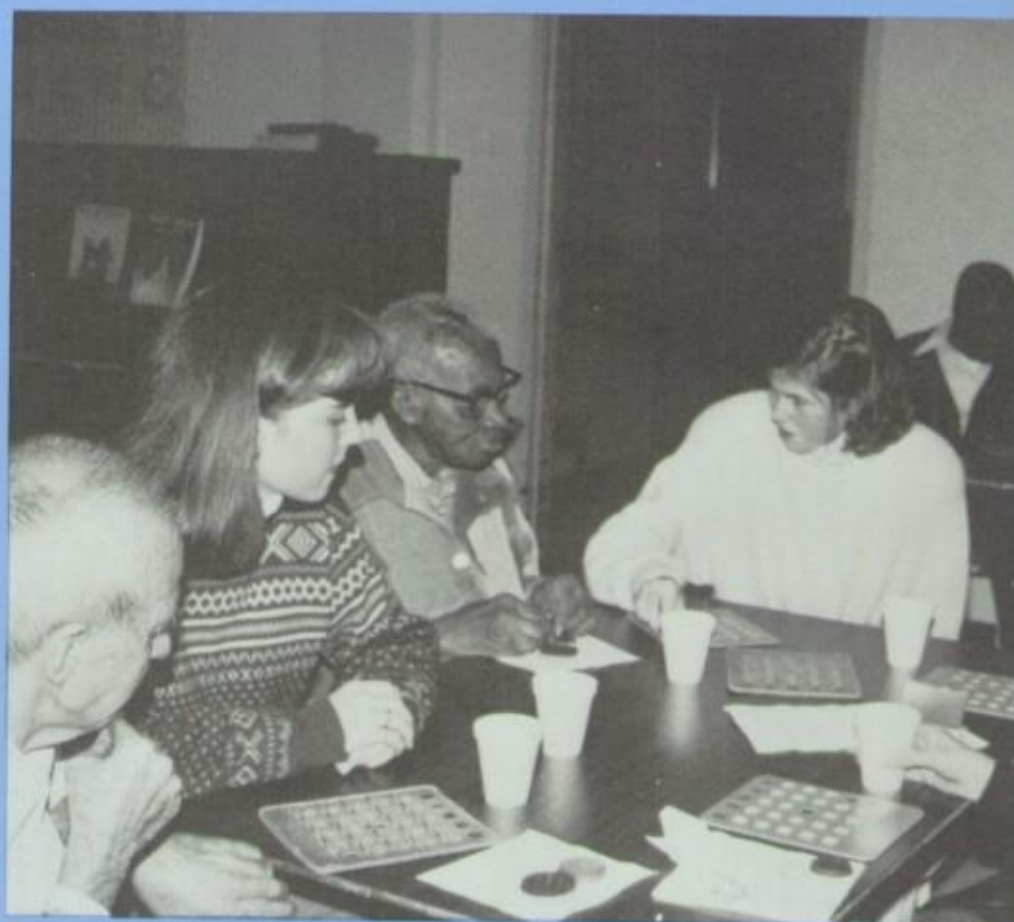

Headed by Mrs. Lillian Mihm, 10E was more than just a homeroom. It was, in the words of one student, "a family." Each day began with a long prayer which was comprised mainly of the students' many petitions. Prayer was often followed by one of Mrs. Lillian Mihm's words from their representatives, S.C. rep Abby McGuire, A.A. rep Jennifer Berman, C.C.A.P. rep Joelle Skorczewski, liturgy rep Colleen Barlow, and Finis rep Michelle Kaniecki. The rest of the homeroom period was dedicated to having fun.

CLASS OF '90 ARRIVES

The freshman class of 1990 entered the halls of Notre Dame timid and shy. With the help of their senior big sisters they were quickly initiated into the everyday activities of a Notre Dame student. They sailed smoothly through the year with the leadership of Courtney Heagney and Joanna Stewart, class president and treasurer respectively. The class of turquoise and grey was amazingly able to survive I.P.S. classes, weekly swimming, Gym Meet, school assemblies, dances and exams all in one year! The newest freshmen class made a very impressive showing and will definitely be a great asset to the Notre Dame community.

FRESHMAN: ARRIVE IN STYLE

The freshmen class entered Notre Dame Prep anxious and shy. They became a part of the scene through their initiation as Superfriends. By Christmas, the class of 1990 was also recognized as the class of turquoise and gray. The freshmen learned how to work together and also to have fun in order to make their first year successful and memorable. Class president, Courtney Haegney, and treasurer, Joanna Stewart put forth their own efforts to unite their class this year.

Homeroom 9A also shared many moments together that helped them grow closer. The first instance was locker confusion on the first day of school. Next, together they searched for hidden chairs and hung the famous "every kernal counts" papers everywhere in room 110. And Lisa Neukum arranged a singing telegram for Miss Diane Vanner, a most unique Christmas present.

The S.C. rep for 9A was Marissa Santos and the C.C.A.P. rep was Wileen Maniago. The A.A. was represented by Grace Carangal. Kelly Riordan and Tressa Airey represented their homeroom for Finis and liturgies, respectively.

FRESHMEN: BECOME SUPERFRIENDS

The freshmen class began their adventures at Notre Dame as Superfriends on September 26, 1986. It was a fun-filled day for both the seniors and the freshmen as they shared their excitement. Our favorite heroes, Superman, Batman, Spiderman, Wonder Woman, and the Wonder Twins, were represented by the five different homerooms. The winners for best costumes were Kelly Riordan, Sandy Martello, Dawn Auffarth, Cindi Perry, and Lauren Martin. This traditional event at NDP still proves to be memorable and enjoyable for freshmen.

Homeroom 9B represented Batman for initiation, but this was not the only exciting event for this group. Room 107 seemed to be the social gathering for the freshmen class in the mornings. And when there was not much gossip, they used the fire escape window as their source of entertainment. 9B also looked forward to the word of the day, despite their S.C. rep, Amy Polk's inability to spell it correctly. Finally, the C.C.A.P. rep was Anna Ham, the A.A. rep was Kerry Sheehan, the Finis rep was Carrie Satterfield, and Rosemary Little was the liturgy rep. Mrs. Sarah Myers presided over this sociable homeroom.

FRESHMEN:

BITE THE BIG APPLE

Led by Gym Meet captain Kerri Sheehan, the freshmen took a bite out of the Big Apple. The class of 1990 was excited to experience their first Gym Meet at N.D.P. In the beginning, many of the girls did not understand the event and thought it was boring, but as the big weekend approached, the class was both eager and excited to present their theme.

The freshman homeroom 9C in room 103 was on the west wing. Led by Mrs. Gerry Sikorski, the girls of this homeroom say that "there isn't anything really special that stands out," except the closeness between everyone. And this closeness was seen in one way by those who represented this homeroom. These class leaders, chosen in September, included the S.C., A.A., and C.C.A.P. reps, Carolina Lobo, Beth Hocker, and Christina Vendelis. Also, Finis was represented by Lauren Martin, and the liturgy rep was Candace Dodson.

FRESHMEN: EXTRA SPECIAL!

Freshmen became very active in extracurriculars at NDP. They played sports, acted in the play, came to dances, and joined clubs and committees. Freshman anticipation for their first A.A. Dance was obvious as the list of ticket sales increased with the approaching night. The girls could be heard buzzing about dresses and dates as the excitement grew. The Christmas Dance designated as the Candy Cane Cotillion II proved to be a night of fun and holiday spirit as the freshman danced to the sounds of The Feds. The girls showed their fashion taste as many of the freshmen outdid the upperclassman with their dresses. The Spring Dance supported by the S.C. is always a light, casual dance where the girls sport their newest spring outfits.

Miss Carla Buckwalter was the homeroom teacher for 9D this year, but to some students she was better known as "Miss Buckie." The representatives for the homerooms took on a various number of tasks for the different organizations at Notre Dame. FRESHMEN:

ENJOY FIELD DAY

One day that everyone looks forward to in the spring is Field Day. Although the day of May 13, 1987 was particularly gray, everyone's spirit was high and the sun did in fact shine just in time for the traditional senior-faculty softball game and sister races. This year's game was won by the faculty members.

Homeroom 9E was particularly spirited during the junior-freshman sister races, field day, and the many other school functions. Although the girls were in different classes, in homeroom they all worked together as one, as close friendships were shared by each. 9E was guided by homeroom teacher Sr. Joan Gluth and led by Susan Malinowski, Courtney Brown, and Jen McManis as S.C., C.C.A.P., and A.A. reps, respectively. With liturgy rep Melanie Saldana and Finis rep Dana Mueller, this unity was especially possible, as homeroom 9E shared a unique closeness.

NOT IN THE CLASSROOM

What do the administrators, maintenance men, cafeteria workers and nurses have in common? These are among the many people at Notre Dame who influence the students although they do not teach them directly. Their warm smiles and friendly personalities help everyone make it through the day.

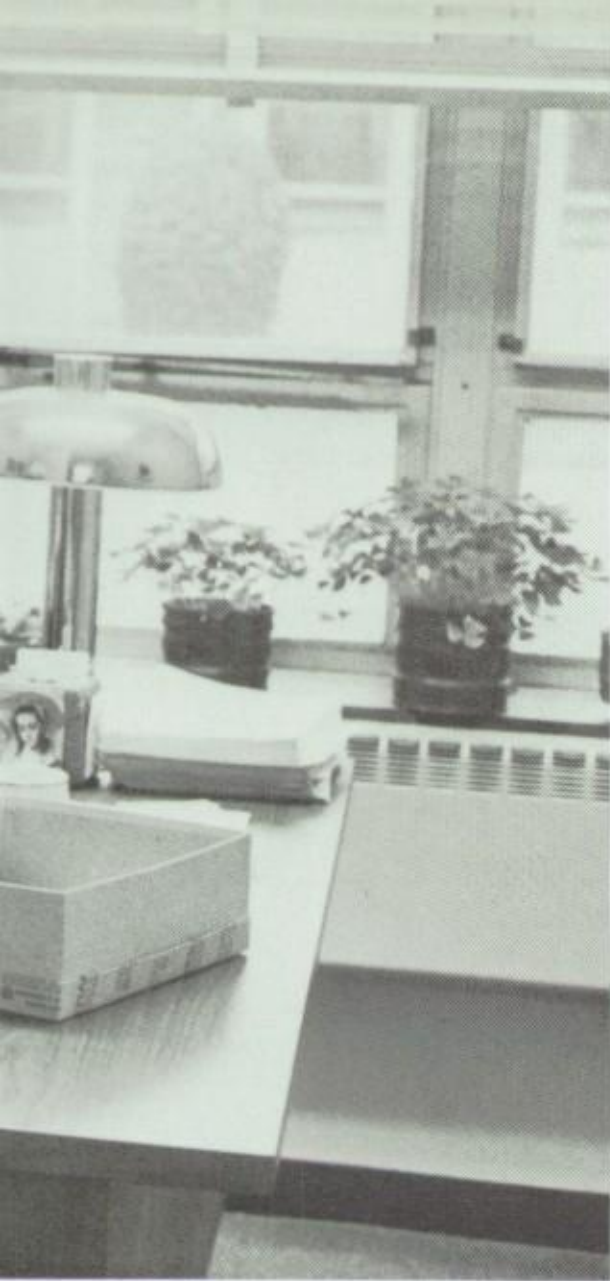

Under the leadership of Sr. Helen Marie Duffy, with the help of Sr. Marian Sullivan, the school year ran very smoothly. Sr. Louise Connolly was a welcome addition to the administrative team.

The development office was headed by Mrs. Tracey Henson Ford. This year's development campaign was the best ever, surpassing its goal of $220,000.00.

The service given by many dedicated workers is very valuable to the student body. Every student benefits from the help of the nurses, office staff, maintenance men, and cafeteria staff. These often unacknowledged people know the day would not go smoothly without them.

GETTING TO HELP YOU

Without the help of the librarians, religion teachers, and guidance counselors, the student body would not make it through the school year. The friendly face of Mrs. Ellen Cullen, the head librarian, makes research so much easier. What would the students do to make it through the day if they did not know how many days it was until Library Week?

The religion department was headed again by Mrs. Lucy Hawkins. Miss Clare Twomey joined the department this year. The religion department did a good job guiding the students in their Christain education by their work in the classroom, by bringing in speakers, and by their retreats.

Headed by Mrs. Maureen Johnston, the guidance department once again advised the students on topics from their present studies to their future plans. This year, instead of career day, the guidance department planned career week. Many of the speakers for career week were former Notre Dame students.

The students truly need the help of these supportive people from the library, guidance office and religion department.

NUMBERS & FORMULAS

This year the math and science departments at Notre Dame tried the formula learning=fun. Mrs. Barbara Barr, the math department chairperson, was in charge of the challenging riddles in the foyer during Maryland Mathematics Week. Five riddles or puzzles appeared each day, and hundreds of students and faculty members submitted answers and won prizes. For answering all but one problem correctly, Michele Co won the grand prize. This year the Maryland Math League was also expanded and provided friendly math competition at monthly events.

Mrs. Karen Lane was again the science department chairperson. The science department is expanding its phase five offerings so that a student may take science on a phase five level from grades 9 to 12.

Two new teachers were added to these departments this year. Mrs. Lyn Blough teaches computer science and Mrs. Gerry Sikorski teaches I.P.S.

WELCOME ADDITIONS

The physical education, art, music, and typing departments all add something extra to Notre Dame. This year, as before, there was a variety of gym classes available for students. Electives included a regular gym class, swimming, water sports, aerobics, dance, slimnastics, conditioning, or serving as a teacher aide for juniors and seniors. This department was headed by Mrs. Holly Adolf.

There are also many different music electives available. Electronic composition, chorus, chamber chorus, and concert experience were popular choices this year. The chairperson for the music department this year was Sr. Marie Kevin Mueller.

The art department attracted many girls through courses like ceramics, photography, and drawing and painting. Mrs. Suzanne Nichols was the chairperson for the art department.

Typing/Word processing was a popular elective for freshmen to prepare for future assignments and for college. This class was taught by Mrs. Jane Rochfort.

WORKING WITH WORDS

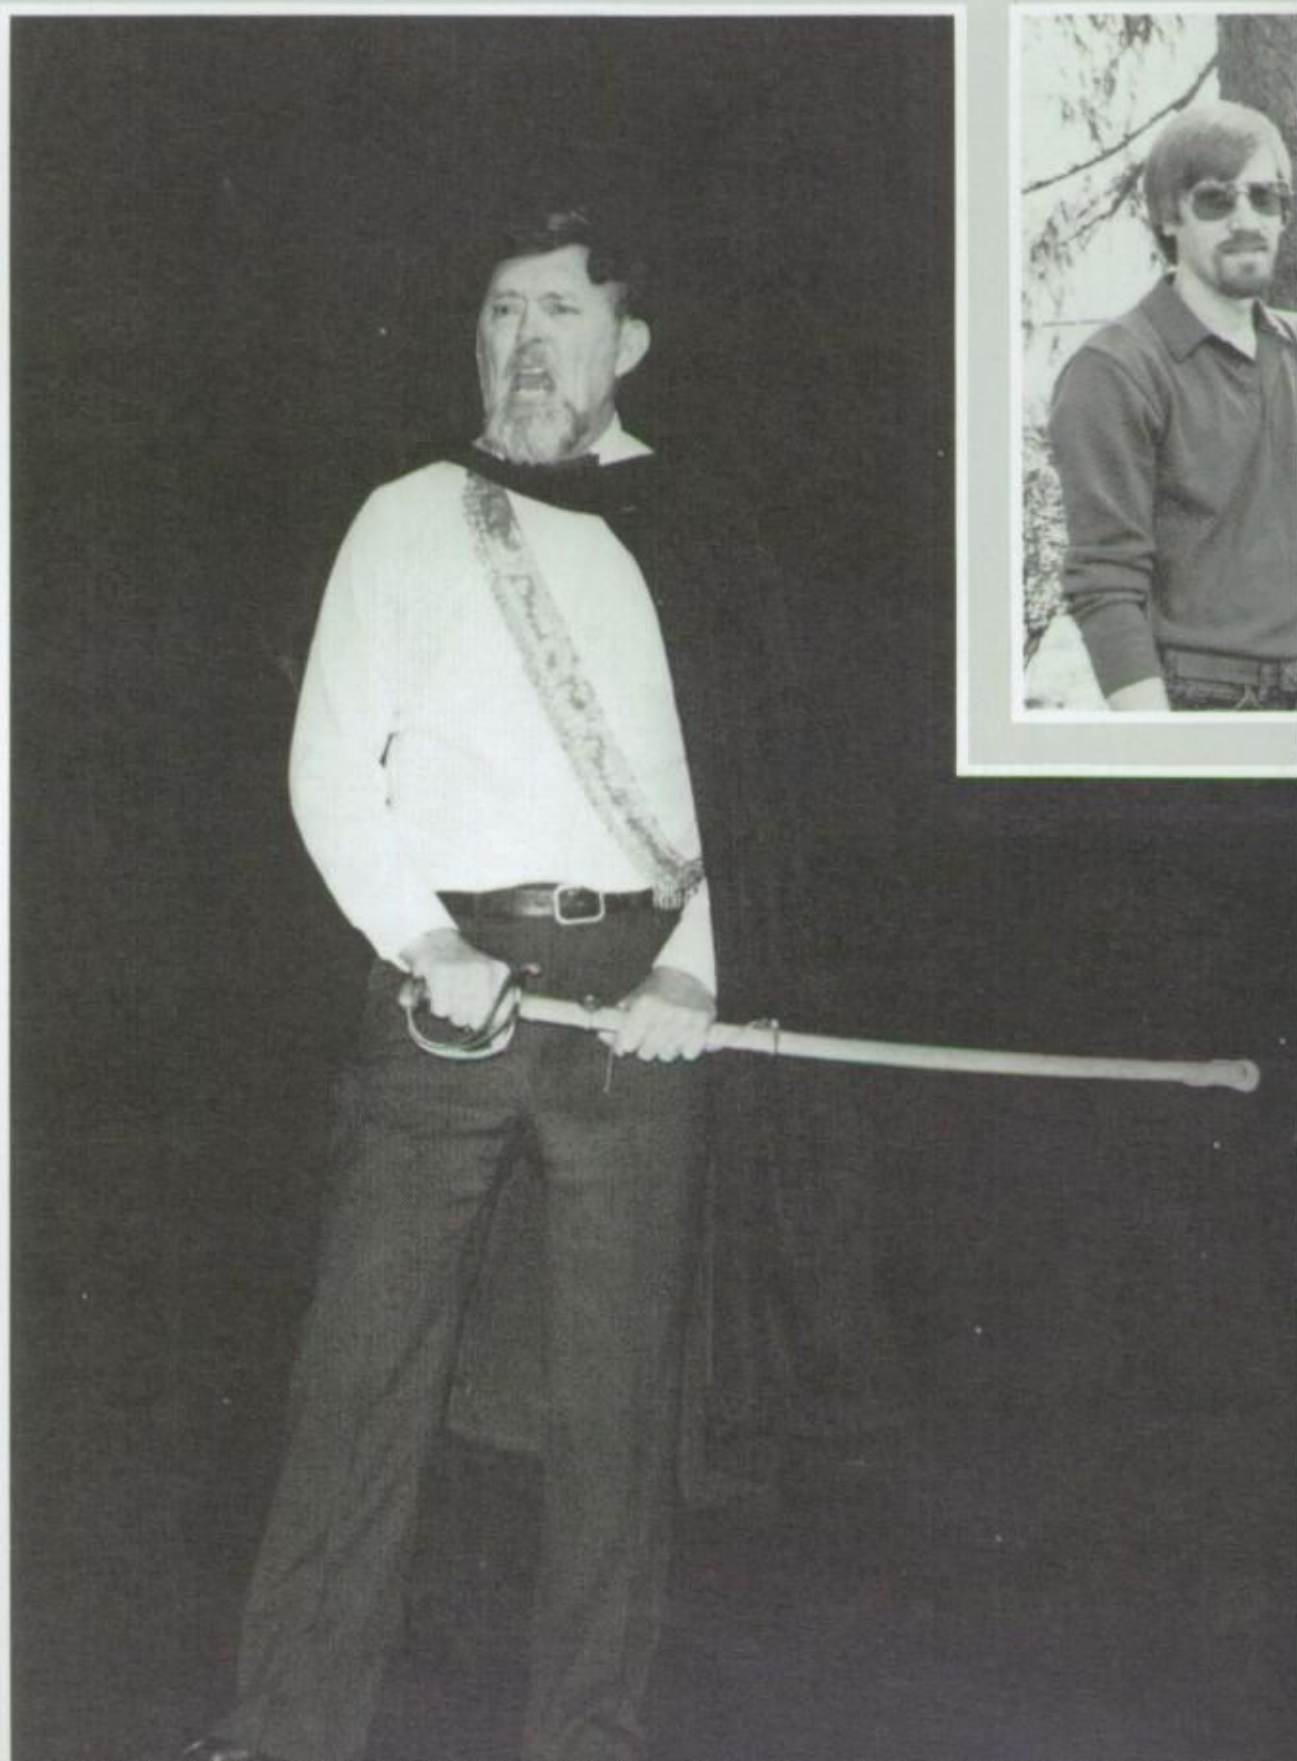

The social studies, English, and language departments each introduced a new and exciting course this year. An applied economics class was established to give students hands-on experience in the business world. Both classes developed their own businesses, sold stock, produced their own products, and sold them. Mrs. Ann Klaes and Colonel Al Peterson supervised the production of decorative baskets and frog ornaments. The social studies department was chaired by Miss Dorothea Newman.

This year some students chose to take a Russian class to understand further the culture and language of the Soviet Union. This class is a new addition to the language department and Mr. Andrew Tomlinson, its teacher, hopes more levels will be available for next year. The language department is led by Mrs. Gerry Loyola.

The English department, chaired by Mrs. Margot Woods, added a new elective course for freshmen and sophomores. This Books and Beyond class studied different types of popular literature, oral storytelling, novels, plays, film, television, radio drama, and short stories and compared them. Miss Diane Vanner feels the course is successful because it helps the students in their regular English classes and in their writing skills. The students themselves enjoyed watching the films and comparing them to novels.

ATHLETICS

Another way in which the wall of memories from N.D.P. is built is through the various athletic activities. Sports are a very important part of the Notre Dame community, as they are an enjoyable way to spend time together and to enjoy each other's company. Because of the several teams, girls from the different classes are able to work together for the common goal of winning an important game for the school. Thus, both school spirit and interclass spirit are combined. Also, the Athletic Association gives countless opportunities for the girls to become involved in sports activities outside of the usual teams, such as intramurals and Field Day. Therefore, sportsmanship and unity are encouraged through these athletic activities and the friendly competition that results is a small, though important, part in the process of learning.

FIELD HOCKEY

Under the leadership and dedication of Miss Kim Parizek, the 1987 varsity and JV field hockey teams had a good season as a result of their hard work. Michele LaVerghetta and Jennifer Patchak, captains of the varsity squad, together with their team members, did their best to work towards a most successful season. This year's high scorers were Michele LaVerghetta and Ann Pellicano. According to senior Jackie Schwartz, "Our record wasn't as good as expected considering our finish last year was more successful since we lost only two games." The varsity's victory against St. Tim's was the first and most exciting game of the season. Once again, the JV team ended their season undefeated. Both teams worked hard, as the many practices paid off.

RACQUET SPORTS

NDP offers the students several opportunities to play on various racquet sports teams, including both the badminton and tennis teams. The badminton team, coached by Mrs. Holly Adolph, displayed its best efforts in the seven games they played, although they only won three and lost four. The team participated in two tournaments this year, leaving behind a great impression of our school.

The tennis team, coached by Mr. Chris Ehrhardt, showed enthusiasm and spirit even though they came up with no wins. The spirit and enthusiasm displayed by both teams symbolized the true spirit of Notre Dame.

AS THE BALL BOUNCES!

This year's junior varsity and varsity basketball teams met their defeats and triumphs with great sportsmanship. Coached by Miss Patty McCarron and Miss Mary Bartel, the teams practiced five days a week. The team members worked diligently on improving their dribbling and shooting skills. Despite the hard work involved, the teams were able to "joke around a lot." The team members received plenty of moral support from both their coaches and the varsity team captains, Katie Gresia and Caitlin Brune. This year's junior varsity team was undefeated and won the Catholic League's Tournament for the second consecutive year.

This year the swim team certainly made waves. Under the leadership of coach, Miss Clare Twomey, and captains, Maria Cummings and Kelly Shaughness, the team won five of their six meets. Lina Lobo said, "There was a great atmosphere."

The soccer teams also had an outstanding season. Both the junior varsity and varsity teams, which were coached by Miss Kim Parizek, were undefeated and also won their division of the AIS. Lisa Decker said, "We played to win, but the most important thing was just having fun." Captains Caitlin Ames, Katie Aman, and Stephanie Cox were named to the AIS All Stars, and Heather Hoag received an American Soccer Coaches Award for outstanding athlete.

FIX THE STICKS

Below: Emily Cootauco looks for someone to pass to. This year's junior varsity team had a winning season.

NDP's junior varsity lacrosse team had a great season this year under the superb coaching abilities of Miss Mary Bartel, who undoubtedly was proud of the eight wins out of ten games, with only one loss and one tie. The varsity lacrosse team however, tried their best, but only had one win out of the ten games they played. Also, as a result of her successful season, Courtney Hasslinger was named to the AIS All-Stars, and senior Brooke Turner represented NDP in the Leukemia Game later in the year.

Miss Pam Trainor must also be mentioned, as well as the freshman lacrosse team she coached who proved to be a promising group for the '87-'88 year. On the whole, the lacrosse teams should be commended for their hard work and sincere efforts, if not for a particularly successful record.

JUMPS FOR JOY

Once again, there were cheerleading and gymnastics teams this year at Notre Dame. For cheerleading, there was a varsity team who cheered for the varsity basketball team and a junior varsity team who cheered for the junior varsity basketball team. They also gave presentations at the Gym Meet liturgy. The gymnastics team had a short season, but worked hard. Notre Dame had some girls placing in the final tournament.

Each student of Notre Dame has individual talents she contributes to the school and to school activities. Each girl, however, is encouraged to share these talents not only with her friends within the school, but also with new friends she makes within the community. Trips sponsored by N.D.P. are very special, as they expose the girls to places, people, and situations in which they may not normally find themselves. Such trips include annual visits to Williamsburg, Philadelphia, and New York, as well as the usual ski trip to Wisp. Events such as the Father-Daughter Dinner and the Mother-Daughter Luncheon also show the community the typical, well-behaved Notre Dame student socializing. Social service trips and events are very important as well, since they give N.D.P. girls a glimpse of life they could not otherwise imagine or experience. Therefore, as the Notre Dame girls share their gifts within the community, they also at the same time learn much from such experiences.

1986-1987:

THE YEAR IN REVIEW

The year is 1986-1987. The events taking place during that year were unique. On July 4, 1986 the Statue of Liberty celebrated its 100th birthday. Ellis Island was greeted with tall ships from all over the world. The largest fire works display ever topped off the celebration, as the statue's restoration was finally completed.

The summer of 1986 saw the marriage of Prince Andrew to Sarah Ferguson. Sarah's dreams of becoming a princess after living a common life came true. Andy found himself saying goodbye to his carefree days to marry the red headed girl from his childhood.

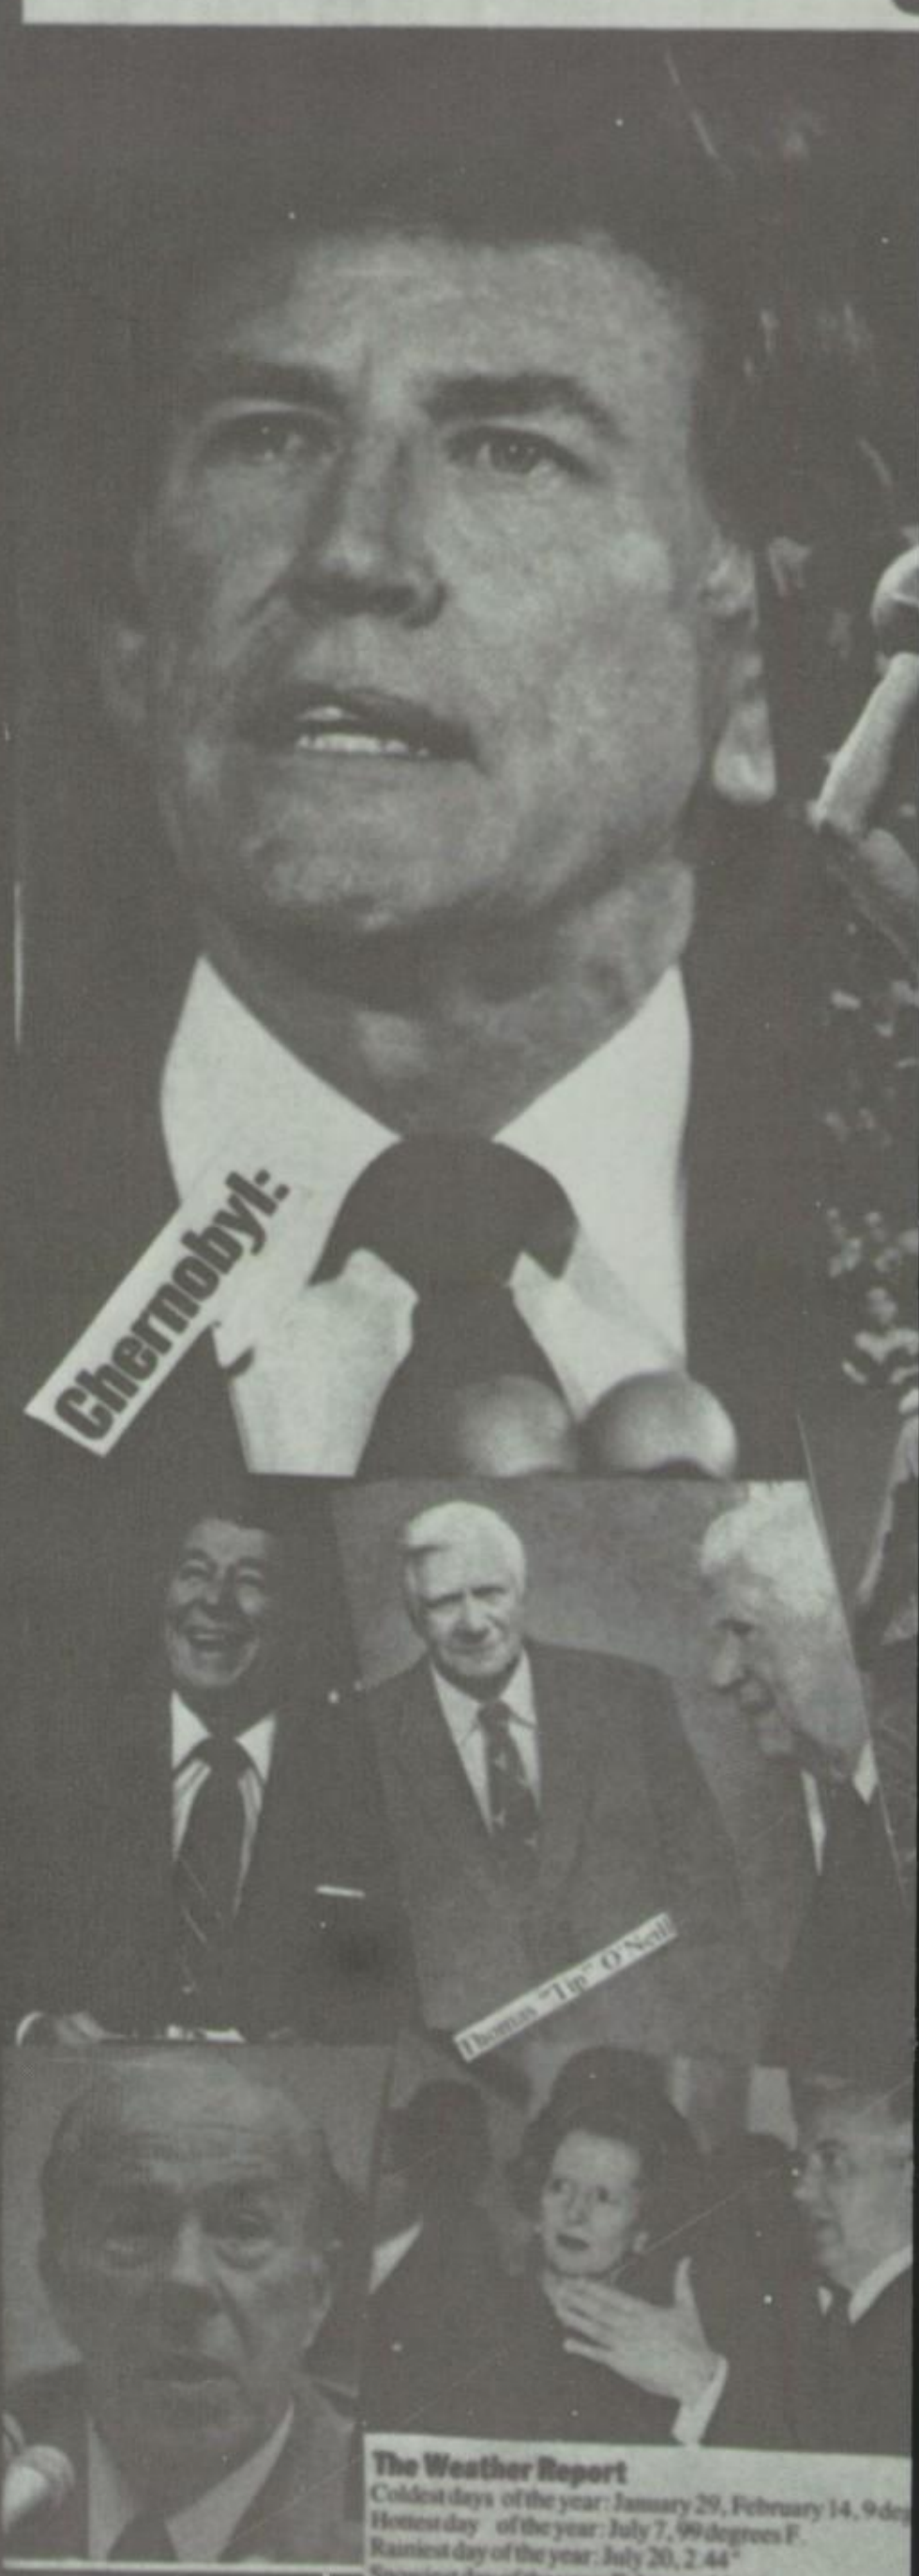

Along with the cheers of the year, there were also the tears. The sudden, tragic death of University of Maryland basketball star Len Bias shocked the nation. After signing his career to the Boston Celtics, he was the first draft pick; he also signed his life away to cocaine. This event set precedents for drug testing in college athletes.

The death of Liberace also shocked the nation, as the fear of AIDS increased. One of the most famous piano players of our time was taken victim of this threatening disease. Worldwide, this eccentric and talented man was mourned.

Politically, the United States has begun its preparations for the 1988 Presidential elections. Gary Hart, the forerunner for the Democratic party, challenged the press to find information demoralizing to his career. After being tailed, he was discovered to be meeting with a beautiful Florida model. A few days later he backed out of the run for the Presidency. Another big political scandal of 1986-1987 was the so-called "Irangate" affair in which presidential advisors are accused of selling arms in exchange for American hostages and laundering money through Swiss banks to support the contras in Nicaragua in defiance of Congress.

1987, like any other year, was history in the making. There were celebrations and disasters that linked the world closer together.

Warm April for the North, Rain for the Great Plains

The Northern U.S.—from Massachusetts to the Dakotas—can expect temperatures to be above normal in April, according to the latest 30-day forecast from the National Weather Service. The weather in the South and New Mexico should be cooler than usual. The Great Plains should have above average rainfall, while much of the North region should be sunnier than usual. However, the odds for precipitation and temperature are too close to call.

1986-1987: THE YEAR REMEMBERED

The year 1987 has brought with it many new styles and set new trends in society. These new styles and trends became very popular and became known as the "in" thing to do, the "in" place to go and the "in" things to wear. The girls at Notre Dame Prep are prime examples of trend-setters and here is a little story of the current events and trends which are number one with NDP.

It's June 7, 1987 and Notre Dame has let out for summer. The girls are getting rid of the worn saddles, the almost-transparent uniforms, and the broken binded textbooks. The radios are turned on with the volume as high as possible. The most popular radio station, 110GRX is tuned in right away, and you can hear songs from the favorite group U2, and the favorite song of the year "Higher Love." As the radio plays, the girls hop into their jeep, the most popular car around, and cruise on over to their favorite boys school, Loyola High School.

The guys and gals meet and discuss the plans on who's driving to the #1 vacation spot, Ocean City, Maryland. On the way down, the Pirates and the Dons strike up a conversation which includes topics like the best concert of the year, Billy Joel, the most popular sport, which is Boys Lax of course. In and out of the conversation you hear the favorite and well known saying, "Isn't that special?!"

The girls and guys decide it's time to stop and get some of their favorite soda and food because by now, everyone's got the munchies. Of course, all the girls have to drink Diet Coke because remember, they have a whole 3 months to fit into their bathing suits. The guys devour 2 large pizzas, regardless of whether or not the girls want any. After their little snack, the group goes on to continue their travels to O.C. The girls immediately begin to talk about guys and they bring up the subject of their favorite hunk, Joe Taylor, the faithful maintenance man of NDP. Meanwhile, the guys choose to talk about everyone's favorite athlete, Cal Ripken Jr.

Soon, the NDP girls and Loyola guys reach their destination and decide it's time to relax, party and enjoy the favorite trends of the rest of 1987.

WILLIAMSBURG

The class of '89 invaded Williamsburg on October 24, 1986 on the second annual sophomore field trip. This trip included 2 days of fun and frolic, touring Jamestown and various other areas of Williamsburg. But this was both an enjoyable and educational experience, as our sophomores not only shopped their hearts out, but also learned about the different aspects of colonial life.

The first day was comprised of various tours of Jamestown, as the sophomores enjoyed visiting several places that were most important during the colonial period. One sophomore remarked, "the best part of the entire field trip was the lantern tour of Williamsburg at night," and the entire class as a whole agreed with her on this point.

The second day in Williamsburg began with tours of colonial homes, as the sophomores learned how families lived during this period. Once these tours were over, however, the class finally got to do what they had been waiting for . . . shop!

The sophomore class thoroughly enjoyed their trip to Williamsburg as they had fun while they learned about colonial life. This trip, however, not only educated about a previous period; it also united the sophomore class, making it a more tightly knit group than before. Thus, Williamsburg can and will be remembered as a priceless experience uniting the class of '89 as they enjoyed themselves together.

FLAMINGOES FLY TO NYC

The second weekend in December the class of 1987 took the annual senior trip to the Big City of New York. The class returned to the Waldorf-Astoria after staying at the Hilton last year. The class left early Thursday morning and saw Me and My Girl on Thursday evening. Long hours were spent on Friday visiting Bloomingdale's, Sak's Fifth Avenue, F.A.O. Schwartz, Lord and Taylor and the Hard Rock Cafe. The weather was a combination of rain and snow but did not seem to stop the girls from attending trips to Wall Street, the Museum of Art and the newly renovated Statue of Liberty. Friday night they saw Cats on Broadway and went to dinner after the show at such places as Sardies, Top of the Sixes, Mama Leones and the Plaza. All seniors were glad that the trip had been moved back to Christmas.

"FAMILY TIES" AT NDP

Who would want to travel across the US with her dad? Those who did had the opportunity at the thirty second annual Father-Daughter Dinner, held on December 7, 1986. Dinner was buffet style, with several different international dishes. Later, the fathers performed the traditional skits, as they journeyed across the USA.

"My father and I really looked forward to the times we spent at the father-daughter dinners and are disappointed that this was our last year."—Senior Ann Pellicano

In case any mothers felt left out, the SC sponsored its annual Mother-Daughter Luncheon and Fashion Show in February, when the mothers were able to spend some time with their daughters. This was held at the Marriott Hunt Valley Inn. Fashions were provided by Sparr's and Gamberdella's, and included spring outfits and formal dresses. The models were NDP students, some accompanied by their mothers.

The afternoon was organized by senior Nikki Verdecchia, chairperson of social affairs; Mrs. Zgorski organized the door prizes. And once again, as a close to the afternoon, these prizes were distributed and the affair was enjoyed by everyone.

WISP SKI ADVENTURE

What would induce dozens of girls to join hands and crawl up the face of a mountain? The absence of night skiing on Saturday and Sunday nights forced everyone to find alternate forms of entertainment. While some girls devoted their energies to climbing the steepest slopes, others trekked up the gentler inclines and went tobogganing on plastic sleds. No one could get enough of the snow.

On the weekend of February thirteenth until the sixteenth, 40 girls went skiing at Wisp Resort. The trip was sponsored by the Athletic Association and the girls were accompanied by five chaperones, Mrs. Holly Adolph, Miss Kim Parizek, Mrs. Judy Phillips, Miss Clare Twomey, and Miss Diane Vanner. The girls skied for three days, spent the night at the Eagle's Nest Dormitory, and ate all their meals in the Wisp Cafeteria. Overall, it was an enjoyable trip, with many laughs and sore legs.

"Scare me, who moved my mattress into the hallway?", says Dawn Auffarth.

JUNIORS DO D.C.

On March 26 the junior class set out for Washington D.C. where they were to visit the Vietnam War Memorial, and the "Nation of Nations" display at the Smithsonian Institute. The junior class had a very enjoyable day and the entire class was in awe of the Vietnam Memorial. "It made me think," said Jacque Walls. The class also enjoyed the "Nation of Nations" display. The display contained the shoes worn by Judy Garland in the "Wizard of Oz," which brought back happy memories of freshman year Gym Meet, when the class took a stroll down the "Yellow Brick Road." The Washington trip proved to be a day of rest and relaxation for the junior class.

SOCIAL SERVICE

The Social Service program, headed by Mr. Ed Donnellan, attempts to provide the students at Notre Dame with a special and personal awareness of social issues. In an open atmosphere, the girls are able to gather facts on important issues and then use this information to develop their own opinions.

And the students themselves serve the community, as each Social Service student is obligated to do 40 hours of social work. The girls are able to tutor inner city children or work with abused, handicapped, or elderly people; these are only a few of the various choices available.

The girls commit themselves to helping others, but they also profit, as they learn and experience much to which they would not otherwise be exposed. As sophomore Jennifer Berman stated, "I've learned more about black rights, gay rights, nuclear war, and other issues. It has made me more socially aware."

Crazy friends provide for crazy times, and what crazy times we've had.

-Neil Young

Wintergreen! What can be said about a weekend you don't remember? Forever frozen lasagna. Porter's mom. no ski poles. Sister Golden Hair Suprise. Jules in between beds. Haef's head out the van door. Jono went to bed too early. The 12 of them- the 3 of us.

O.C.! Senior week. The key is in the bell. Matt's lobster. Eddie's watermelon. Raquel's sofa buddies. Heath's musical beds. Julie's Boosch.

Thanx Eddie, Matt, and Matt for always being completely useless. Carefree Bay #8. Thanx Brad, Mike, Mike, Paul, and Bill for leaving the window open. Capital Hill. Za's. Dumsers. Golden Sands. Would you be my girl? Chris, would you say something? Eddie, over the balcony. Would you all call me Jules? Hey baby . . I'm Bill. We got these, I don't know what they're for, but we got em. Wanna buy a duck?

Que pasa buddies? Michelle's New Year's Eve. Yes Susan you are on this page. Heath's basement. We got the keys to the bus. Joe's here, Kate pour out the coffee. Jimmy wears a size six bikini. Amy-pro lift rider. Bon- the legend lives on. Lisa- thanks for driving. Eddie-tubing And the upside down pizza. Gitter's-lace collars. Beth (Mr. Bounce) Sorg. Bob-call back in a six minues. Chris- that be the last pumpkin you ever get!!! Never forget college night with a buzz. Or Jules's attempt to wipe out six no parking signs.

-Ain't it good to know you've got a friend, or at least think so.

P.S. It doesn't matter what color the popsicle is, cause they all taste the same.

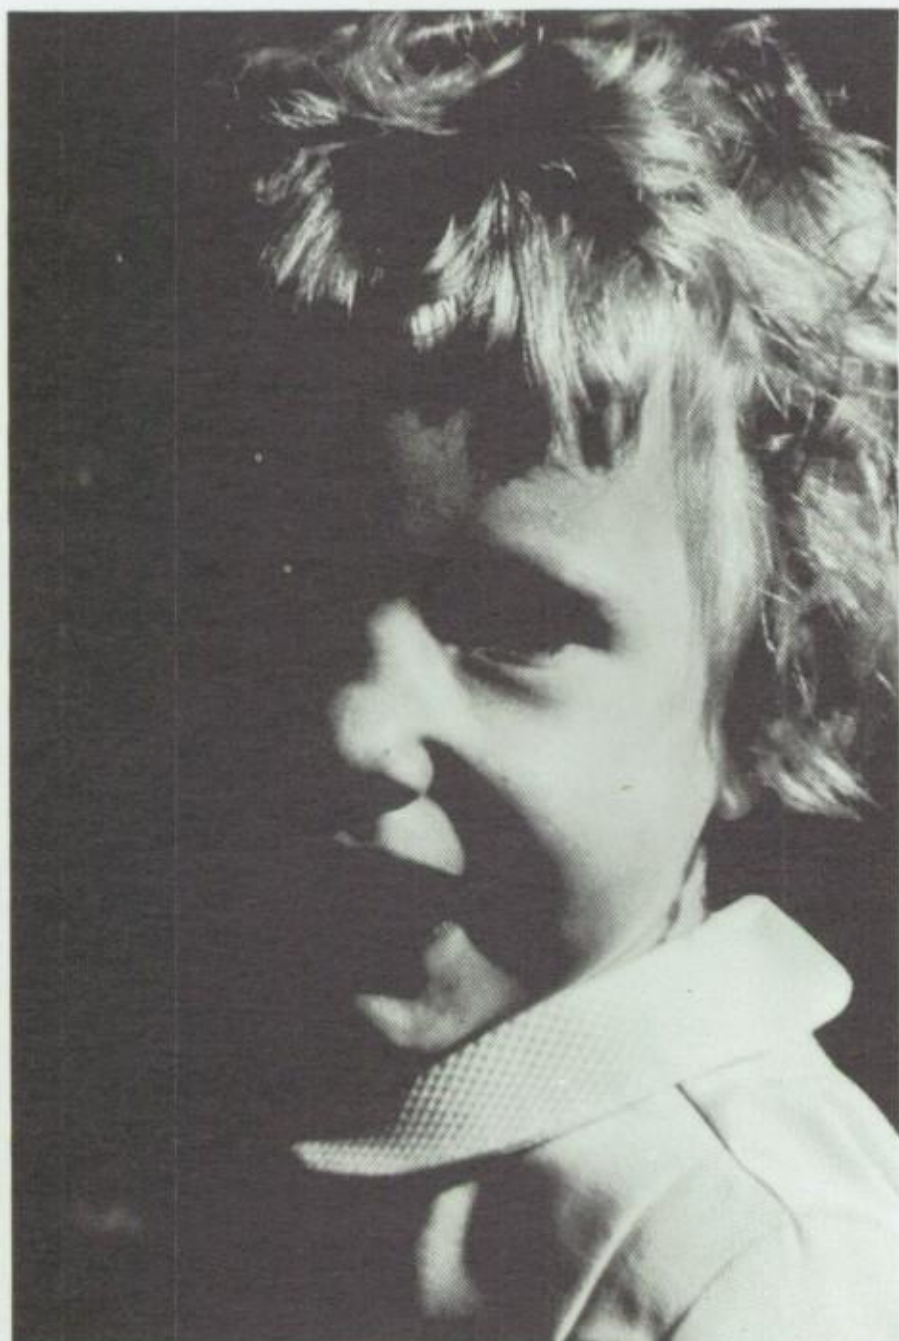

Luv,

Jules, Heather, and Raquel
P.S.S. Oh, and Eddie if you sit at Yorkshire long enough the "perfect" person is bound to come by.

-And that's all she wrote.

THE CLASS OF '89 - UNITY

Where can we start because how could we possibly end? We'll never forget the ski trips, gym meet, parties, and O.C. yaking in public bathrooms! CHC Jr. Prom at Chris's mailbox and Morgan Mill Road. Weekend nights the van, sitting in Eudowood's parking lot, Chi Chi's and the strawberry D's, running out of gas, buying rounds at Sch . . . , the Ring Dance "Changes", O.C. '86 will never be forgotten! The Green Dolphin, the people upstairs - who really was staying there? Leaving everyone at 80th st., Eric and his 20, that wonderful night with O.C. Police Dept., Diamond, Cupcake, "Not Guilty!" Hez - O.C., Nova S . . . with John, better stay with away from those dryers and Ricky, put on your bathing suit next time you want to go swimming in Loch Raven! Guzi (fireball) - New Year's Eve parties, big screen T.V.'s, ski down Minute Man. Jen - My lab buddy, Aerobics - what a joke! NYC. Git (L.F.U.) - The clunkers F's got to go! Next time you ride in a van don't get hit by the door. Don't to catch it - it doesn't work. Never drive on empty! Learn to drive on a hill! Beth (D.D.B.) - Your night out the window because of too many, trying to teach me how to ski, Greg Sorg's Ring Dance date, thanks for everything. Jill - No more dancing on tables! Jules - Watch out for those wooden pegs that jumped in front of you car. Hez, Guzi, Amy, Lynn, Bonnie, Susan, Raquel, and Jules - Thanks for everything! Kevin and Greg - Love ya lots!

Love always,
Beth and Margaret

Your our first, and hold a special place in our hearts- We'll always be there and we'll miss you lots! What will we do without you. Just remember-"A smile, a simple smile, makes all the difference."

Ellie And Annie '89

Lots of love always, Mom, Dad, Annie, Edward, Mid and all her puppies.

The last seven years have been the best that I could ever imagine. My years at NDP and Maryland are ending together. I will never forget Ellicott City and Tow-zeen. My beltway buddies and seven am buses will always top the list. Freshman year saw the US much to my dismay! It really wasn't that bad. My big sis Beth, initiation, x-mas in Florida, secret stories and Hunt cup made freshman year. Class of 84 left and here came homeroom with Chris and Patty and another year on the bus. Breakfast with the easter bunny and 87's Holiday Revue bring us the song plaque. My first college experience to UD and a week alone for the famous 4th of July party!! A trip with Chris to NH. It was great babe. I could never sum up the Murdoughs, "first times", Treetops, Kellerhaus and water skiing. We really were on Henry's rock. An ultimate vacation.

Then the long awaited year finally arrived. October 3rd and finally a license but still another half a year on the bus. November 1st speeding ticket after a Loyola game. Then Jim and a great eight months. Ring Day was so special and Ring Dance even better. amazon's driving, eating PB & J, Chris' breakfast! Finally UPPERCLASSMEN!! Carpool with JM and KK who drives? JM's two accidents and trecks to Overlea! It is so far. Ellie's New Years party honestly mom I don't know why they were screaming! Fourth of July on the island and guy parties with our freshmen. A great summer, two weeks alone and a paid vacation. Back for the long awaited year. Seniors at last NYC here we come. Off to Chicago we go! I knew it was coming! Maryland thanks for the great memories. Hey babes I couldn't have done it without you. But we still have Senior Prom, Graduation (graduation parties), White Dance and senior week in O.C. Chris thanx for all the deep converstations. Thanx for always being there forever. You all are welcome in Chicago anytime. Thanks mom, dad, ed, annie, and mid for putting up with me. I couldn't have made it without you. I will miss you!!! Thanks Billy and Meta my second parents. I luv you little pu bear and Anita! Goodbye ND and MD!

Luv, El

"Our memories of yesterday will last a lifetime, we'll take the best forget the rest and someday we'll find these are the best of times." Thanks NDP, love, Simone, Kathleen, Monica, Bebe, Lisa, Lisa, Karen and Laurie

We will always remember . . . Bebe's boys, O.C. with Tina, Simone's thursday's, snobby bookworm, tree shrews, Kimosabe Heh Hah, benched cheerleaders, Lisa's elbows, The Newlywed Game-Bud & Clover, trash & jammer, Andy & Ed, Cyndi & Prince, lil boy & girl, Carla & Rose, pouting, "col wears braces?", Thomas Jefferson, Beach Boys in the rain, confiscated drinks, "I love you I want to help you . . . Waaah", Pointer Sisters, sentimental letters, "Echo . . . break the sound barrier, Lisa shaking, Kathleen's noise, monethia, Karen's snobby mods, eyebrow aches, Lisa's religion 110, combos, gummy bears, cookie dough, pop tarts, "dear God it's the Capitol!", orphan's trip to McDonald's, 4 hour trip to Calvert Cliffs, fried (?) chicken, Lisa is sooo gullible!, diving lessons, food disasters, George's treetorns, Santa at Philly, mixers, walk-a-thon, Billy Bob's $100 tip, horror movies, Monica directing KQ to JHU, stopping at the block, "Are you deaf Simone?", Lisa's stockings, Joe & J. R., little cherries, Kings Dominion, Joe Plaid, Jeff's lightening streak, mysterious phone calls, Pope's daughter, snowflakes, "Lisa assume the position", twilight zone at O.C., attorneys, bats attacking, missing balloon, meeting Travis, getting mooned, gingerbread house, quest for long hair, parallel's wonder dot, sister shirley, gargantuan, luid & lucivious, You all racked up yo, Simone does McDonalds, diet coke, smush's profile, bowling, ding dong the witch is dead, the last shall be first, stranger's wedding, Hob Knobbers, tap dancing, Lisa's phone home, babysitting Terry, Karen & Monica's gas station. Waving goodbye (3 or 5?) We knew we could make it even though the jellybeans were heavy. You know it!

Who Could Ask For Anything More?

OUR LOVE ALWAYS, MOM, DAD, JOHN & MATT

"What a long strange trip it's been!"

It all began with freshman initiation at BL. Sophomore year started with a hole in the wall and a broken flowerpot. Learning to drive: "Mom, I got a ticket . . . no, doubling the speed limit . . ." Philadelphia with Jen and Julie-$250 dollars? the chinese lady singing, break dancers in China Town and everyone else believed it all. That New Year's Eve and a broken T.V. Summer 85: obsessions; Beth's with a certain twin and Julie's with a KGB man. Daily long distance phone calls from Julie at Hillendale. "It's an emergency this time-I swear!"

Junior year: the Kinks concert, the one they didn't know about, Ring Day and Ring Dance-getting picked up in a truck. Who were our dates anyway, Julie? That New Year's Eve spent in a car. GYM MEET '86-IT WAS RIGGED!! Thanks Billy for all those (many) times in your basement. Pictures of us at BL football games (we had season tickets that year). Stealing signs with Beth and Julie.

Hillendale Country Club: summers with Princess sneaking up there at night. Summer '86-Hillendale will never be the same again. Ayda. Getting fat on pizza and Kit Kats. Long talks with everyone. Ayda and I getting yelled at. Constantly being there. Three nasty boys: a little surfer boy, KGB man, and Stevie Wonder boy. The Lou Reed concert-"Do you walk on the wild side?" #1 swine (who's that?) "Let me tell you a story . . ."

Ocean City '86: senior week-seabiscuits and being bag ladies with Boppin Lindsay, Julie, Lisa-O.C. trips at 4:00 a.m. and then leaving the lights on.

My AWESOME week in Georgetown-will I ever get back? Georgetown with Boppin and Julie-in search of God.

The question is: Are BL boys really born losers? Gilmanites (lackawanna Julie) and fun times with the Roland Park girls.

To my friends-thanks and I love you all.

Beth-there are too many memories to tell. Remember to take the long way home! Our obsessions with twins. Prince Charming is coming someday soon (or did you already find him?) To the O'Sheas-Thank you for being my 2nd family-I love you! Jane-we've had the best talks in the world! Know we won't forget Lafayette and 2 perfect men (or so it seemed!) What great taste in music you (we) have! "Teenage wild life"- maybe not but someday we'll show them all. "We're all in the gutter but some of us are looking at the stars." Our time will come (have you ever heard that before?) Nicole-I'm glad you're back. Remember all our shopping sprees and all night sleep overs? Small cheese pizza? We've had a lot of fun, even! To a wild group of girls otherwise known as the Fun Bunch-thanks for all the good times and the memories. Cheers! Julie-we'll get to Georgetown someday. Thanks for all the long talks over pizza at your house. Taking cabs as freshmen, Baltimorons, and too many fun times to tell. Obsessions-will they end for us? Ayda-Hillendale just won't be the same. We had a great time. Remember another initiation at McDonagh? Why is it that we always have bad luck together? Sara-(or should I call you Princess?) Growing up together at the club- all those summers were fun. You constantly changing who you were in love with (even today) Jeff, you, and I at the Maryland Training School for Boys. Your driving-and backing or trying to back out of Edwin's driveway. Little Lindsay- Remember, I get to be partners with William. Summer '85- we had alot of fun. Hunt Cup '86. The John Cougar Concert- when he waved to me.

Lisa-the three Musketeers with Matthew. Getting to the Loyola Junior Ring Dance (we did it). Who ever thought you'd be President of A.A. and I'd be S.C. President? All the fun times we had (remember twins?) Thanks for all the support and the long talks- I couldn't have made it without you. Jen- I've missed you more than you know. We have a lot of great memories together: Donating blood, daily traumas in Biology, making a right around the island of 115 west, and the day we got to be lab partners in chemistry!

Thanks to the class of '87- you're all the best ever! Showing everyone in Gym Meet 87!

Thanks and good luck to my little sisters- Rina and Courtney. Thanks Notre Dame For letting me grow and showing me who I am. To my rebel brothers- I forgive you for ganging up on me. Be good and behave! Thanks and ILY.

Mom and Dad- no words can say what I feel. Thanks for putting up with me during the bad times and the good. I love you both. As I come to the end of this I have two last questions: Do I really wear a sign that says no? and will I always be the innocent one?

Love,
Mikella

Hey Dy, Bopsie, p.p.d. & w.w.,
What can I say? How am I supposed to deal w/my senior year w/o you? The party is over and I don't even have pictures to make the memories last (except, of course, for the ones under my wallpaper & on envelopes). All I can say is that the dumb Italy lady deserves a lot of credit- w/o ballet we wouldn't have become good friends. Those summers spent lifeguarding and doing the Merman Exercise Show & creating entire f.p. cities - we were inseparable. What was that noise? - peenuuu . . . (no need to explain that one). You know the only reason I came over that night was to get back the copter. You've had it now for 3 yrs.

Well, I have to go, oh no, I gotta paint. Sledding won't be nearly as exciting w/o you. The snakes, however, are psyched you're leaving. So are all the citizens of Md. who presently own standing mailboxes.

Watch out for that Bunga-bunga stuff, and I'll watch out for eskay meat.

Love,

RAH (sister rah)

A black and white portrait of a young child, likely a toddler, with short, dark hair. The child is wearing a light-colored, vertically striped shirt with a bow at the collar. The child is looking slightly to the right of the camera with a gentle expression.

Good Luck Seniors!

12 years at the prep, little blue uniforms and (almost) sparkling white saddles. My uniforms are still little and I don't think that my saddles have seen shoe-polish. Thank you, mom and dad, I know I haven't been the "perfect little girl", but if I was, it wouldn't be any fun! I love you, though sometimes I don't show it. Maria, Juan Bien, Rick & Noel-you've all looked out for me, don't stop!!! ILY♦

FRIENDS: My memories come from you—

TALK TO ME! What do I want to talk about? So go on, you were saying? "I must be crazy to be this infatuated"-Phil, not to mention Bop. SPAIN 86 with Tina and Tay-VAS A MAS! H-Hunting, I had the WORST birthday! SURPRISE! Jake the Snake. No TRESPASSING thanx to Plottster and the Bruno. Dolly, Madison & Binky, Summer in OC. Wondertwin powers activate! Keri is so veri. Check out those abs!-Cambridge men and peppermint PATty. Goober, Omar and Spangles. BHB and ALS (yuk!) G-town with Moo-Moo, Cristobal Arroyo and Kupps. HEY GIN, wanna go sledding? Porsche, there is no substitute. Mom and Dad, I hit a mailbox in the mercedes . . . Bonnie, how many, 17? 1 ½ mos, 5 week-ends x2 give; or take . . . I WILL PASS ANATOMY.

For my buddies, TP esp., Nikkabah, EQ, LL, BW, Mich and Rah-thanks for all the good times. Scott-Endless hours of listening to you, why I don't know, got any gossip for me? Thanx for being my bestest buddy.

Over the years the Fun Bunch has made a stand

We've walked together hand in hand
Through tears and laughter we made our way
And now our memories are left to say . . .

Beware of B's basement and our horse farm.
Take many all nighter and stay out 'till dawn
Pay attention to the game and of Harry's dip.
Watch what you're doing or you'll have a bad trip

Books in the alley, stay away from the woods
Does your boyfriend treat you as nice as he could?

The Kinks . . . Led Zeplin . . . entertainment in the car

Bangin the drums and playing the guitar
Our fear of fire engines with their hydrants and hoses

Our list of 10 commandments according to Moses.

Sudden inspirations to visit at three
Don't wake up Doug and Bugateme
Eileen the B.H. queen

Don't embarrass Lindsay you'll make a scene
Does Mikella wear a sign that says no?

Will Sara ever find her long lost beau?

We consider Ann a little boy crazy

When she's with Stacey whose thoughts may appear hazy

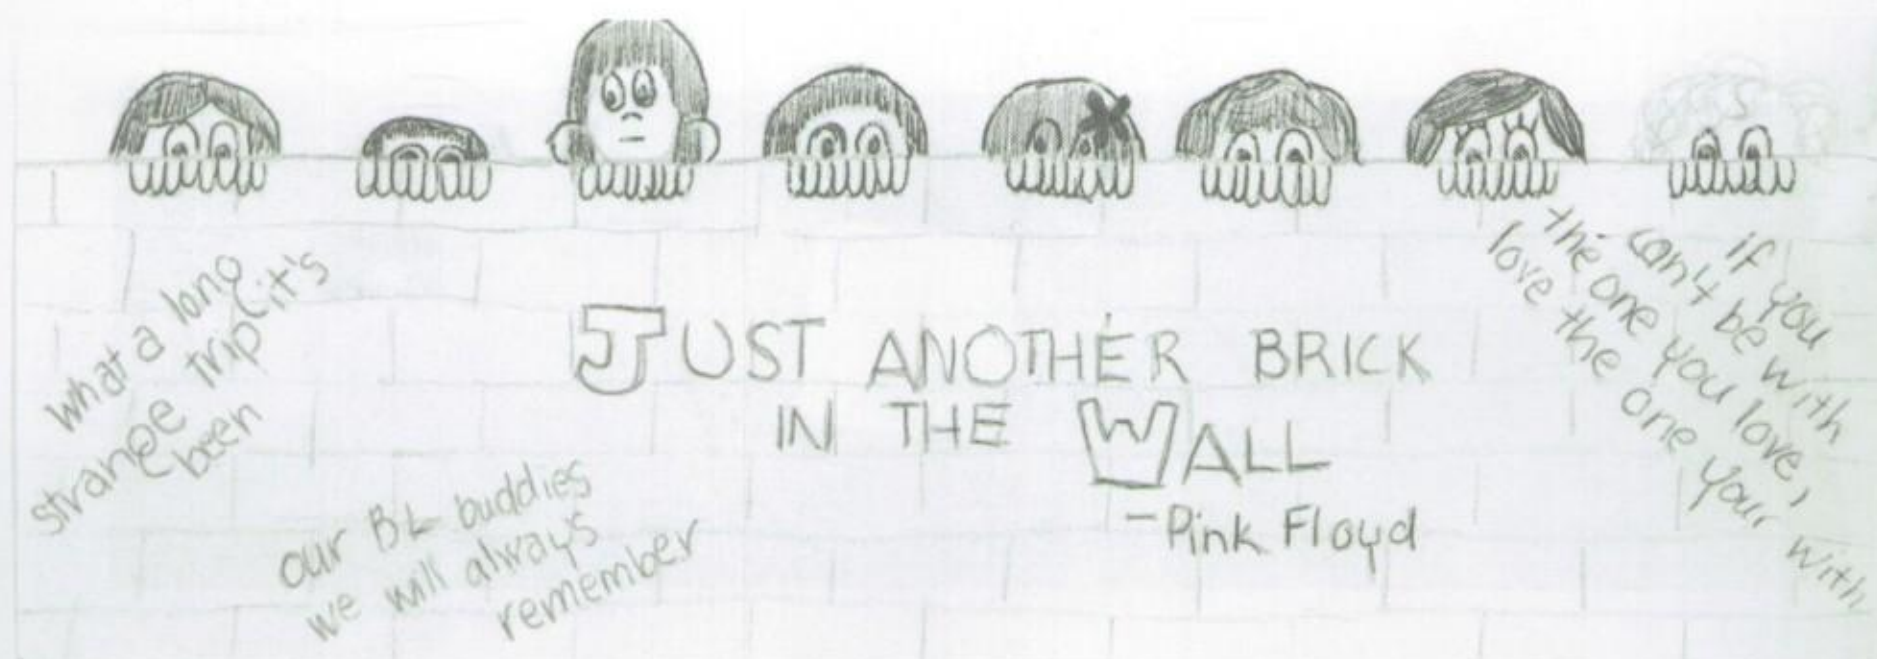

When Julie's making eyes at Spidel

Roli's existence has put Kerri through hell

The list of infatuations goes on forever

And our weekend friends we will always remember

But our nest of friends has kept us high
'Cause we took the road less traveled by.

Good Luck

Dear friends and family,

Thank you all very much for your support and love for the past four years at Notre Dame.

Love, Ann

Mom & Dad - Thank you - I love you Bill - You pulled me through - "BAA FOREVER" Tucker, Ron, Allison, Janet, Kate, Megan, Lisa, John H, Kelly, Chris and Mike, Bill C, Ann B, Elle', Devin, Alex, Mr. Bean - Thank you; our talks were very special. Marietta and Grandmom, Maureen & Joe, Albert & Joy, Victoria, Albert, Samantha, and ? Grandmom and Granpop - You're the best family I could ever want.

Mrs. Gottschalk, Mrs. Klaes, & Mrs. Carroll - Your classes were my favorites.

Lisa and Tom - I love you both.

Mrs. Farmer - You're an inspiration.

Cathi E - What can I say? Take it easy.

"The forum" Life's a basket.

"The Tim Crue" YAAB

Rathskeller "one or two"

Tucker - we all miss you!!!

Mom & Dad,

What can we say after 58 years of Notre Dame? In our journey from 1st to 12th grades, each of us has collected boxes of treasures that will always have a special place in your closet. You taught us to tie our first pair of saddle shoes, and always made that extra trip across the beltway when we forgot that all important book report. Making sure there was always a place in our heart for God, you never let anything just slip by. There have been 10 saddle shoes around the house, but more importantly there has always been 2 loving parents eager to provide the best. Dad - morning after morning you still seemed grateful when we gave you our cookies for your lunch. Thanks especially for escorting us to the many father-daughter banquets - sometimes even with 3 of us. Mom - what about the times you were there before Gym Meets and dances. All of our "Best Lunch" awards are dedicated to you. You both put up with countless hours on the telephones, broken curfews, and of course, broken hearts.

Thank you for loving us so much.

Twelve yrs have come & gone. I owe a lot of people a big Thank You for helping me get here a last. This page can not possibly capture 12 yrs of memories, but I'd like to take this space to say Thanks!

"So before we end and then begin, we'll drink a toast to how it's been." Bonnie: ROXANNE! Life would have been so boring had it not been for your morals. But here's to our 6 years of trouble. Remember: stairwells, 2e. OC summers, Mem'l Day wkends, Prom dates, lots of "little problems", your parties, JP, PH, contests (you lost bad, baby). We've lived thru a lifetime and the aftermath. ILya, kid.

Michelle: It's been one big euphoric stage (I think) YES times. You throw an awesome New Year's PTY! One never knows the truth until they experiment, right? 2e times in OC. Thanx for getting me thru Oct. Thanx for everything—but that really doesn't say enough. ILya

Lisa: It all began at Beach Boys. Remember: 1 week of OC in the rain, Top Gun (!) Our little problems. Never forget our airport adventure-good times. There's nothing that you don't know. Lisa Landers—thanks for helping us all out. ILya

Susan: I'm glad that Clancy dethawed. Never forget the red pick-up in OC—I'm still embarrassed! Thanks for making me laugh—I'm in touch w/ that emotion. Always let the blond come out. Lov ya!

Jules: My advice—stay quiet and out of trouble! I'll never forget OC summers and MIKE!—maybe someday. Until then I'll share EC, as always.

Jules—Thanx for teaching me patience. Lov ya

Heather: I'm glad I'm not the only one who drives like that!! Thanx for the use of the hot tub and your great parties. Also for driving 24 hrs a day (even in hurricanes) In OC Here's to OC '87. Lov ya

Raquel: Let's ride the zeber. OC '86 we were smoking buddies. And hey—we were even in an academic class together! See ya

Eddie, Pen, Burt: We've had the best times! Artificial---! The Jeepster/Junkster. OC when we were all that was left. Essex Ave. Accidents and tickets. Springsteen. Matty D. and his mobile. Close calls. Is it up? The missing link. Mr. & Mrs. Little. New Yrs. Will you marry me yet? It's green! Talks. Loch Raven Bridge. It's all sandy. I'm in the puddle. Timing. Aug. 5. Remember me, damn it! I love ya! Matt n' Matt, Flex & Fish. The white Ghost was awesome (except for the tickets). I will never forget the aroma of dead fish w/ a hint of stale beer combined w/ something I have yet to identify. You guys throw unforgettable parties. (If you know what I mean) RELAX!

Debbie: Best of luck in your last yrs of NDP (rison!). Hang in there, you wonder! Good luck w/ m & d on your own. Lov Ya, sis.

Mom & Dad—what can I say? Thanks for putting up with me for (you're only 17) 17 years. I couldn't have made it w/o your. I love you both very much. Thanks for everything! love, Amy

This is the time to remember, 'cause it will not last forever. These are the days to hold onto, though we won't although we'll want to. This is the time, but time is gonna change.

Life is a series of hello's & goodbye's. I'm afraid it's time for goodbye again.

They say this highway's going my way, but I don't know where it's taking me. O woman please have mercy, let this poor boy be! And if I could go back and start over somehow, I wouldn't change that much, knowing what I know now. Though there have been sins, I will regret, I don't have all the answers yet. Code of Silence. Liquor citations. Kerry is so very . . . let it snow, let it snow!! U2. Oregon Ridge. Were you careful? Babe—I promise. Where should I say I'm going? It took me! Call it a hunch, Bang-girls. Big Ed lives: On top. Living on the edge. Your eyes. -KL-I hereby bequeath a case of Midol to Lynn Langis. And hey—only in a jeep! Our little games. And if I don't have this all worked out, still I'm getting closer, getting closer! I still have far to go no doubt. Good-bye, at last, to everyone.

Ring Day

November 7, 1986

These past four years have come quickly to an end
 And none of us could have made it without our friends
 Before we know it, we'll go our seperate ways
 But who could forget the good ole days
 Our "attractive" voices have "entertained" so many It's time to control our pigouts - since we've had plenty
 Many boyfriends and parties we've been through Cruising in the dead party mobile was great too
 Infatuations kept us constantly dreaming
 And our hit list kept us always scheming
 We've had many fights and shed plenty of tears
 But hand in hand we've remained through the years
 Time must come to say farewell
 But we'll still have the good times on which to dwell
 Even though we will not always be together
 Our memories will stay with us forever

CAN YOU IMAGINE:

Kara not having to go the bathroom again, and again, and again . . . ?

Michele not talking to Mark - everyday?

Tina liking someone for more than two weeks?

Carol not dreaming about her dream man? (Call us when you find him!)

Kate dating someone without an inheritance?

Kara not holding a bogue?

Michele not wearing any lipstick?

Tina not having anything to wear (for all of us)?

Carol being on time?

Kate not singing in opera?

I'M SO GLAD WE HAD THIS TIME TOGETHER JUST TO HAVE A LAUGH OR SING A SONG SEEMS WE JUST GET STARTED AND BEFORE YOU KNOW IT COMES THE TIME WE HAVE TO SAY SO LONG.

-cb

Michelle & Cathy bid farewell to 12 years at NDP: How to corrupt and torture a Guzman. Give her J.D. and watch her squirm, force feed her grapes and hot peppers, make her taste test liquor candies, get stuck in the mud with a borrowed Datsun, make her quarter it up with a 2 yr. old friend and finally, introduce her to the speedy 'n weedy dilemma. Memories together: Williamsburg-powder battles 'till the room was white; The Lochness, the ultimate promoter of foul language; trying to find our favorite brand of . . . "Cancer sticks" and gussying up to get a no no!! Florida-Palm tree smoke outs; Dr. Bert and the time telling gas gauge; pick up a grit or two and then argue about it; the Bugle Binge; Painful prescriptions (the cramp syndrome). O.C. '84-66th Street; Hair number 36 is out of place; Pina party; We all love the yellow submarine; Greg P.?; Sneaking out a 2'x1' window and don't forget 75th Street, playing Koz' right under the table, New Year's '85-will we ever see the silver ball? Who are these people? Big daddy bouncer! Renting my room out unintentionally; I didn't need that t.v. anyway!; I didn't need . . . ; New Year's '86 . . . Again-cleaning the floors on all fours; "The Room"; Loyola invaders; reviving 'the Animal'; Living a dream . . . Early in the morning with the furious five; We sped everywhere-to school, touring the Constellation, and in the Piggy's and the weeds, leaving our separate ways. Hunt Cup '85-13 people + 1 barrel + 1 grill + coolers = 1 station wagon, Animal hanging out back window, Mark J and boof burgers; Michelle gets a sting; Jamie and Cathy in World War III. First Gym Meet party = 3 thieves in a shaver. Christmas dances-Michelle reserved stall #2; Hez' lets it all hang out; Christmas dance '85 reports to Michelle's A.A. Dance-the dance that lasted 30 minutes; Some real live capital motion. Slumber parties-15 innocent little girls? So long to all of our friends-Amy, it's been real. Beth, we luv ya', Bon, we're still wondering 'bout ya'. Hez, so what are you saying? Susan, have fun at Bucknell. Jules, we'll ALWAYS remember you! (how can we forget?) and Best Wishes to the rest! To the 'rents, we've put you through hell, hope you still love us??!!!

We'd rather laugh with the sinners than cry with the saints

Billy Joel

Bye N.D.P., It's time for us to fly!

Love
Michelle & Cathy

Sometimes you have a lot to say but when the time comes to say it you can't. Nevertheless we would like to bring back a few memories for our friends.

Bonnie - How did the sand get in your hair? I lost the bets, Matt 2, Kerry is so very, O.C. bathrooms, whiplash from green Scirocco's, 2E stairwell, I swear I only had one! Sting, Roxanne, Amy you tried - Everybody loves a legend!

Lisa - We gotta problem, 48 hour senior week, a dateless Ring Dance, O.C. learning experiences, Jamestown, Molly & Tiffany - we're a little wet!, Billy Joel, NYC - Purple Rain and dented limo's, BWI escalators, skiing with haystacks, Matthew's harem, '86 friends - I made it!, the impossible neighbor, Heather we tried!

Amy - Beach Boys, Eddie, Koryaks, my best friend's boyfriend, lemonade, NYC - White Shoulders, Where are you sleeping tonight?, Boy Scouts BWI, Ed's 18th B-Day, Art's pictures, thanx for being my conscience and putting up with us, WLY.

Jules - Summer of 86 - nameless, faceless, many, MIKE, green is horny, red gives it away, How was the play in NYC? Are you and Lisa sisters?, skiing with snowblowers, watch out for shower doors, I'll never forget being your neighbor - What an experience!

Michelle - New Year's Eve, Broken TV's - I hate your house, vacant rooms, Mrs. Art Norico, yellow submarine, How many kids are staying with you?, Mike H. - why?, cowboy lover, O.C. '86 Jailbirds!, We love you even though you smoke too much!

Heather - Anne Elizabeth, Maria's Pizza (2 am), pigmies and pink elephants, riding that train, rabbit convertibles, Jules and Rags - What problem friends we chose!

Susan - Michelle's B-Day, frozen dog, God at the X-Mas Dance, rent a shag king, we owe your dad a case, Loyola #13, O.C. fun at Carefree Bay, You're a great friend.

We love you too Eddie, Matt, Raquel, Lynn, Margaret, Cindy, Beth, Greg, Art and everybody else!

"Some people can call it a one night stand, but we can call it paradise."

"Your mother said the only thing I could give you was a reputation."

"It's tough to handle this fortune and fame,

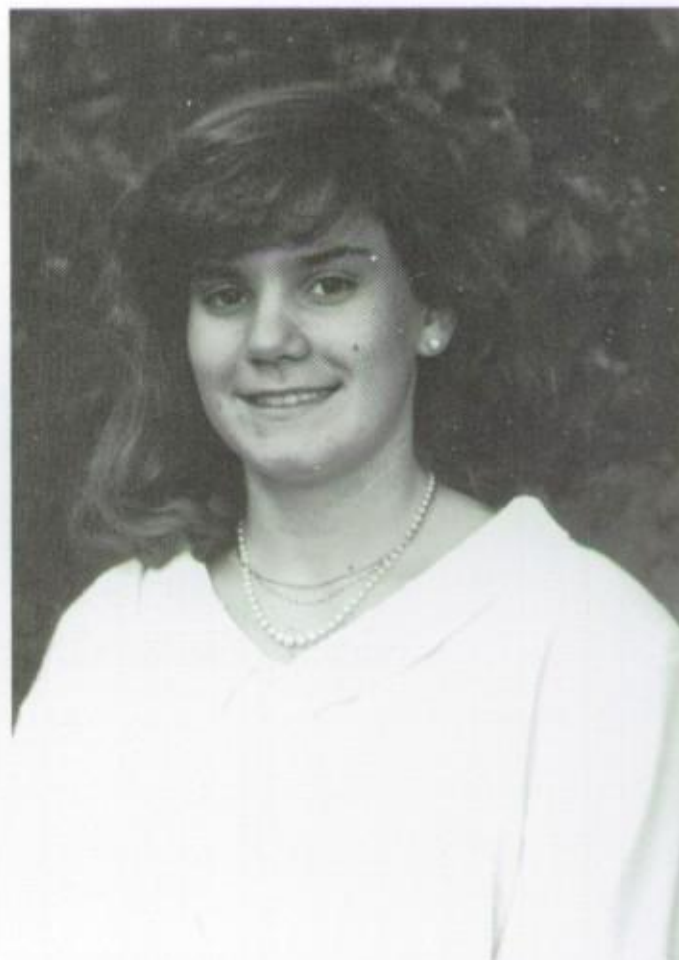

Everybody's so different but we'll never change

They say it's crazy but it takes all our time

We'll keep on going but never know why.

Life's been good to us so far."

We'll miss you all,
Bonnie and Lisa

Where have you gone
my little one, little one?

Where have you gone
my baby, my own?
Turn around and
you're two Turn around and
you're four
Turn around and
you're a young woman going out of the door.

Jen . . .

DEAR JENNIFER, IT'S HARD TO FIND
THE WORDS TO LET YOU KNOW
HOW VERY MUCH YOU'VE MEANT TO US,
THE WAY YOU HELPED US GROW.
YOU WERE THERE TO HELP US OUT
WHENEVER WE WENT WRONG
AND FROM THE VERY START WE KNEW
THAT WITH US YOU'D BELONG
AND WHEN IT WAS THAT TIME OF YEAR
REMEMBER GYM MEETS PAST
YOU FILLED OUR HEARTS WITH SONGS AND PRIDE AND MADE THOSE MEMORIES LAST
YOU DID YOUR BEST IN EVERYTHING AND TOUCHED US ALL IT SEEMS DOING AS YOU ALWAYS HAVE,
BELIEVING IN OUR DREAMS.
AND THOUGH IT SEEMS THOSE YEARS ARE GONE
WITH ALL OF US APART
TO US, JEN, YOU WILL ALWAYS BE A TREASURE OF THE HEART!!!

Compliments Of J&J INDUSTRIES

WE'RE GONNA PLAY SOME POOL,
SKIP SOME SCHOOL,
ACT REAL COOL,
STAY OUT ALL NIGHT
IT'S GONNA BE ALRIGHT.

To the Washing Machine Club: "You've heard I run with a dangerous crowd, we ain't too pretty, we ain't too proud, we might be laughing a bit too loud, but that never hurt no one."

Carol: Wherever the road to the future leads you're not driving! Where would I be without you to crash my BMW, to learn stick with, when I run out of gas on 695, and to make me late wherever I'm going? But that's OK cause I need you for things like fireplace escapes, good cries, eating three ice-creams in one night, and to talk me into getting an ID! BLThreesies struck again on New Year's. Thanks for taking care of my concussion til 5 a.m. I think its time to teach you how to inhale. Never forget- If you love someone set him free, if he doesn't come back, hunt him down and shoot him. P.S. "I must be crazy to be this infatuated."

Kate: Wherever the road to the future leads - you're not sleeping on the way! Yes - we've had our fair share of infatuations but only 2 really count, right? . . . overexcited electric blankets . . . GUNK! . . . eating roses and throwing tomatoes . . . Sorry Mark, I don't own blankets . . . St. Paul's Excursions . . . doing what in chairs? . . . pre-football game festivities '86 . . . melting GI Joes in fires and hot tub nights . . . breaking senior habits . . . "After you've heard lie upon lie, it can hardly be a question of why! . . . sleeping in prison cells . . . Can I brush your teech for you? . . . getting heads trapped outside windows . . . unsent letters and sarcastic b-day cards . . . your party basement and my partycasa . . . Did you ever have Bayer aspirin when you were a kid? . . . Slimy Worm Attack . . . And as for the only two that really matter - deny it all you want, I don't believe you . . . and as for mine, I think I'm stuck!

P.S. Too bad the street was dark - Ring Dance '86 . . . Patience is a virtue . . . "Is she really going out with him? . . ." Oh, almost forgot, Remember to watch.

Michele: Wherever the road to the future leads, you're not singing on the way! Happy toppers #1-3 with Kate . . . trapping Carol under pool tables . . . trying to find the potty fountain . . . neverending concerts . . . I'll stop the world and melt with who? . . . 87 times around the kitchen . . . pig outs with food Kara hates . . . flat tires and fights at Jimmy Buffet . . . thanks for lecturing Chris for me! . . . dancing on my bed while watching pulsating plaid ceilings . . . Whale's Tales with Mark, Slash and Mikella . . . Cancelled Christmas Dance - group dates, Slash yuked and stepped in lasagna . . . ZZ Top with Slash . . . Hobble? . . . getting trapped in dressing rooms when Carol pulls off door handles . . . Prom '86 and '87 and singing all night with the band . . . waking up Susan down the beach . . . Matt, look I've got some really good ice! P.S. "If you ever see her, say HELLO GOODBYE GIRL!"

Kara: Wherever the road to the future leads - you're not directing! If you want to go to heaven you've gotta raise a little hell! "love your secret admirer" . . . MT2 . . . no more sneaking bogues . . . bunjy bottles . . . getting attacked by Dulaney Girls . . . weekly BK meetings . . . I don't get that joke . . . Mama Twibbe, Mama Party, Mama Bogue, Mama Wastecase, and Mama Auntjemima . . . Kildor! Twice in one night by the same cop? . . . splatted in the mud . . . Do we have to go to CMG's again? . . . waking you up at 6:00 a.m. . . . DS, SM, SK, MT, JS, SK, JS, MM, SL, GD, SG, IGORE, Hunt, Frank, - need I go on? . . . RTR in a glass - We can dress you up but can't take you out! Unidentified flying tomatoes . . . Billy Joel I and II -concerts in the party wagon . . . "Teenage Wasteland - They're all wasted!" P.S. "Stop, Hold on, Stay in control . . ."

AND THESE CHILDREN THAT YOU SPIT ON
AS THEY TRY TO CHANGE THEIR WORLDS
ARE IMMUNE TO YOUR CONSULTATIONS
THEY'RE QUITE AWARE OF WHAT THEY'RE GOING THROUGH CHANGES BOWIE - RING DANCE '86

A mis amigos espanoles - especialmente Cindy: What can I say? From German beerhalls to Spanish subway stations (chocolate por favor?) . . . tripping into charlas and endless shopping excursions on three continents . . . thanks for the sleepovers and endless pigouts . . . Peppermint Patty and O'Henry . . . Auntie M! . . . "She wants him so badly . . ." . . . jogging in Spain . . . Kerry is sooo very . . . Dr. Lopez-Isa will see you in the morning . . . carriage rides in Sevilla . . . "Oh what would you do for a KLONDIKE bar?" . . . Guy hunts - GU, Cambridge, SU, IT, FR, E, YG, and OC . . . Try to avoid your passion for mailboxes. Diving board talks and pool excursions were the best. Do I owe you lunch? Have a good time at the Christmas Dance '86?

P.S. "I've got a secret that I can't explain" OMD

Meg: It seems like I could not see you for weeks and when I finally do it feels like I never left. Thanks for the borrowed clothes and sleepless nights. Putting me to bed when I couldn't manage . . . Hunt Cup '84 . . . Go for the challenge, forget the guy - So will I . . . Avalon and surf rats . . . crawling down sand dunes and avoiding the cops . . . Thanks for the nickname - I love it! When the going gets tough the tough go shopping.

Bill, Sheila, Frank, Kelly, Meg, and Maura - Thanks for being my second family ILYa!

Good Luck Maria, Neile, Nicki, Tiff, Maryanne, and especially Kerry- Thanks for being the best little sister ever. You have to visit me at GU next year.

IF YOU CAN'T BE WITH THE ONE YOU LOVE
LOVE THE ONE YOU'RE WITH

Moo-Moo: The phone convos were awesome! Who is the most boring person you know? Thanks for putting up with me and all of my problems and quirks. You're a great friend - don't change.

Brian: The all night talk in the BMW was great. Thanks for being there.

Matt: Finally someone who appreciates my music - you can have a ride anytime! Thanks for teaching Carol and me how to use that cute little red thing.

Bill: What can I say? You're one of my BB's and my second half. All night chasers and double sunrises were a blast. Guess old habits ? aren't that hard to break. Thanks for being there for twelve years and get ready for twelve more.

Chris: Well, it's definitely been different! Thanks for everything and never forget - When you lose your dream you stop living.

Steven: Why don't you get back on the boat?!? You're an awesome shopper and a great friend. Thanks for the Spanish lessons!

Eddie: Remind me never to wear plaid boxers and green cowboy boots around you again. October is a great month to . . . Matt's parents should go away more often. P.S. Want to go on a Safari?!?

Scooter: Thanks for the endless parties down your basement - they were awesome! Your little talks always did manage to keep my hopes up!

Ed: Take care of those eyes! When I'm feeling philosophical I know I can come to you - you're an awesome talker! P.S. I love your Rosy Cheeks.

Matthew: Where do I start? Chris Winter's? . . . Comforters . . . beach excursions . . . Hunt Cup '86 and new ways to drink . . . weeks I wished would never end . . . Alright, I admit it, I screwed up . . . ugly libraries and "moonlighting" every one and a while . . . Our Italian Restaurant . . . Want to go sledding . . . Wheeling, WV and Kamikazis . . . why is your shirt . . . nevermind . . . I'll drink you under the table . . . pushing cars through Balto. and hikes to the harbour with Kate, Eddie, Matt, and Julie . . . Was that you on the couch? . . . please, just one more bogue . . . permesian cheese? . . . 2 more weeks . . . no, not the lady cop . . . sneaking out til 4:30 . . . Pretty please with a cherry on top? . . . Oh by the way your name is on my ID . . . Gym Meet '87 and the secret dates . . . It's been awesome but the best is yet to come. P.S. You were worth waiting for. Class of '87: Winners have wings! Silver Cup - 1987!!!!!!

Mom and Dad: God knows I wasn't the easiest child to live with but you have to admit it was fun! Thanks for 18 years of support and love- I couldn't have done it without you.

Mark and Kevin: Try not to die without me!

Before we end and then begin,
We'll drink a toast to how it's been,
God, I've loved these days!

Love,
BOPPIN'

This is not good-bye but just a time to remember the good times. Most of what I really need to know about how to live, and what to do, and how to be, I learned in kindergarten. Wisdom . . . was there in the sandbox at nursery school.

These are the things I learned: Share everything. Play fair. Don't hit people. Put things back where you found them. Clean up your own mess. Don't take things that aren't yours. Say you're sorry when you hurt somebody. Wash your hands before you eat. Flush. Warm cookies and cold milk are good for you. Live a balanced life. Learn some and think some and draw and paint and sing and dance and play and work every day some.

Take a nap every afternoon. When you go out into the world, watch for traffic, hold hands, and stick together. Be aware of wonder. Remember the little seed in the plastic cup. The roots go down and the plant goes up and nobody really know how or why, but we are all like that.

Goldfish and hamsters and white mice and even the little seed in the plastic cup—they all die. So do we.

And then remember the book about Dick and Jane and the first word you learned, the biggest word of all: LOOK. Everything you need to know is in there somewhere. The Golden Rule and love and basic sanitation. Ecology and politics and sane living.

Think of what a better world it would be if we all—the whole world—had cookies and milk about 3 o'clock every afternoon and then lay down with our blankets for a nap. Or if we had a basic policy in our nation and other nations to always put things back where we found them and cleaned up our own messes. And it's still true, no matter how old you are, when you go out into the world, it is best to hold hands and stick together.

Robert Fulghum

The senior retreat was held at Summit Lake. This tower, in the center of the lake, is reflected back in the waters.

Diane Spanish
Hi! I hate your great!
class! is a bitch!
Alexis love ya.
Joanna

Hey! I wish
 Freshman year would have lasted
 a little longer (well
 not really - but hey
 it sounded good!)
 I'll never forget
 your little visits to my Homeroom in the mornings!
 Or your cheery
 "Don't forget me!"
 (I'll be there!)

P.S. I wrote in red ink because I have red hair.
 (Interesting 'nest pas?)

Its been nice to be your friend. lets see
umm, 4 yrs. long time
enjoying sophmo
yr. I still have m
silver watch!
sorry no mussy
stuff.
Luv, Kate

I want you to know I love you
and I will always be there for you
I hope you are

I love you so much
I hope you are
happy and healthy
I love you so much

Diane,
Well, I can't think
what to write.

Diane,
Well, yes, we are still here and we made it
through - "summer school!"
we were too smart to be there!
I'm looking good! & being good!
I have a good time & some friends!
Luv ya, Cohen

Diane,
Well we're finally sophomores! Now we have to worry about the
dances all over again.
I'm so glad I got to know you. And I hope to continue being good friends.
I'm sure we will. Good luck
this year.
Luv,
Sandy

Dear Diane,
I hate thinking
that our freshman year is over but it is. We had so
many good times!
Homeroom in the
morning/dances/
gym meet/mixers/
liturgies (HaHa) &
all those other
'fun' things. We still have Williamsburg
to look forward to!

Next year can be even better!

Diane,
You're great!
I just the way you are
last year was great. Will you
be back for
ember 2003?
Phoebe

Luv ya,
JANESSA

Diane,
Well, finally freshmen
year is over, but it was a lot of fun, anyway. Try to forget IPS & Mrs. Sikorski, but remember all the good things like Gym meet, initiation, &
swimming (just kidding)!
Well, anyway, you sit in front of me in religion this year, so that'll
be fun. Sophomore year'll be a blast! Stay Sweet!
Luv ya,
Gina
